$100,000 IN COSTLY ART RELIEF FOR BIG DISPLAY

J. T. Edwards, F. R. G. S.,
Now Working on Bear State's Xmas Gift

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff

THE greatest map in the history of the world is being made by a Glendale man, J. T. Edwards, F. R. G. S., whose residence is at 1213 North Brand boulevard.

The map is of the state of California, 600 feet long by 20 feet wide. It is being constructed at the 1745 Glendale boulevard studio, Los Angeles, near the Mack Bennett studios, at a cost exceeding $100,000.

When completed, this gigantic map will show every mountain and valley, every river and lake, every highway, railroad, irrigation canal, forest, town, city and other configuration within the confines of the state, either the work of nature or of man.

The map is being assembled by Mr. Edwards for the California Development association, and when completed will occupy the space of the Perry building, San Francisco, where it will offer a permanent visualization of the resources and development of California, from north to south and east to west.

Shipped in Sections
It will be shipped to the northern metropolis in sections, the first huge slab, 130 feet in length and covering the counties from north, being scheduled for shipment by Christmas of this year. The entire map should be completed for the big July 4, 1924 celebration that is planned.

Picture a vast panorama reaching from the Mexican border to the Oregon line, compressed into 600 feet of absolute faithfulness, reproduction, giving an effect as of the whole state viewed from an aeroplane! It was necessary to visualize this map in the mind, before making the first concrete move, states Mr. Edwards—necessary to live with it, dream with it.

The great map is the outgrowth of conferences held in 1915, at the World's Fair in San Francisco, called at the insistence of William A. D'Elbert, now director of exhibits of the California Development association, then commissioner general.

Mapped New York City
Mr. Edwards, who had modeled many exhibits for the San Francisco fair, among them the City of

VENISON DINNER AT KIWANIS MEET

Constitution Forms Theme of Address by District Governor Winder

The weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club, held in the Tuesday Afternoon Club yesterday, was featured by two outstanding events that made a powerful appeal to the members and their guests.

The first was the serving of generous venison steaks that had been cut from the deer killed by Dr. T. C. Young and A. L. Baird on their recent hunting trip to the Mount Lassen region; and the second was the address delivered by A. Heber Winder, district governor of Riverside. Mr. Winder's address dealt with the Constitution of the United States, the anniversary of which is being celebrated all over the country this week, and in his address he declared that there is room in America for only one flag, and that one the American flag.

Red Flag Must Go
"The red flag, that symbolizes war against liberal government and civilization, must go," declared Mr. Winder emphatically.

Governor "Bill" Brown presided at the luncheon and spoke briefly on the Constitution, asking a number of questions of some of the members that were intended to bring out facts that every American should know.

Dr. Young and Mr. Baird, the donors of the deer meat, recounted the details of their hunting trip and told of the difficulties that they encountered in getting their game back to camp.

Captain of Lost Destroyer Squadron Takes Full Responsibility

NORTH ISLAND, SAN DIEGO, Sept. 22.—A bombshell was exploded in the court of naval inquiry at this morning's session when counsel for Captain E. H. Watson, squadron commander, and the twelve other high officers held as defendants, announced that his client had desired from the first and now desires that he be permitted to take the witness stand.

"Captain Watson is anxious to assume full and complete responsibility for his actions as commander of the lost squadron in order to prevent by any possible chance of its being placed where it does not belong," Captain Craven, counsel for Captain Watson declared.

Would Reveal Facts
"It is the squadron commander's desire at once to give his testimony so that the court, the navy department and public may know the full facts."

"The conscience of these defendants is clear and they wish to take the stand and assist in every way to bring out the facts," Captain Craven continued.

Applying to counsel for the defense, Rear Admiral Pratt, chairman of the court, commended their action in the highest terms.

Action Wins Praise
"The court appreciates the attitude taken by these defendants, which is in keeping with the traditions of the navy and in keeping with the character and spotless service records of these officials as I know them. Their action will shorten the proceedings and facilitate the court, which is anxious to get at all the facts. I wish to say the rights of the defendants will be safeguarded in every way."

Admiral Pratt then announced that court was adjourned until Monday morning. It is understood that Captain Watson will be the first of the defendant officers to take the stand on the Monday morning reopening.

Ten thousand officers and sailors of the navy are this afternoon rehearsing the monster memorial exercises which will be given tomorrow in honor of the twenty-two victims of the Point Honda disaster.

Chief Fraser Tells Reason for 'Buttons'

Chief of Police John D. Fraser today informed The Glendale Evening News why traffic buttons have been placed in certain positions at the corner of Doran street and Columbus avenue. He stated that they were so placed that motorists would have to slow down and therefore, lessen the danger of accidents to school children who congregate at that corner by the hundreds.

Chief Fraser said that several arrests have been made at the corner recently for failure to observe the buttons, but he denied that "more than a score" had been arrested.

Animation was a feature last night of the regular weekly meeting of Post 127 of the American Legion.

Following the resignation of John F. McEllich of 410 East Maple street, Ryland Sizer of 108 East California avenue was appointed membership adjutant. He pledged his earnest efforts to increase the membership of the local post and expressed his opinion that what he lacks in experience in recruiting drives he may be able to make up in enthusiasm.

Post No. 8 of Los Angeles, which is the largest post in the county of Los Angeles, was represented at the meeting by "Bob" Wilson and D. S. McCarty. They extended an invitation to as many local Legionnaires as possible to attend their post's get-together meeting and program Thursday night at 246 South Hill street in the Disabled Veterans' Hall. Talks by J. F. Collins of Long Beach, department commander of the Legion, and Mrs. Martha Decker of Los Angeles, department commander of the auxiliary, will be followed by a number of vaudeville acts.

SUN INVADES DRUG STORE FIELD HERE

Mammoth Corporation Takes Over Stock and Lease of Jensen & Sons

NEGOTIATIONS were concluded late yesterday by which the Jensen drug store, 133 North Brand boulevard, passed into the ownership of the Sun Drug Company of Los Angeles, and the establishment opened this morning under the direction of the latter company's executives.

The drug store is the only part of the Jensen holdings included in the deal, Henry Jensen and his sons, Robert S. and Walter Jensen, retaining the Egyptian Village, the recreation center and other interests in Jensen's Palace Grand shops.

The consideration involved is not made public, but it was based on the amount of stock shown on the inventory that was completed last night and on the value of the lease of the drug store.

Lester Francis Millet, who has been with the Sun Drug company for the past eight years, in an executive capacity, assumed the management of the store this morning, but he announces that the staff employed by the Jensen Drug store will be retained in every department in the establishment, and that no changes will be made in the personnel.

Maintain Sun Policy
It will be the policy of the new owners to maintain the Glendale store on the lines that have been in force in the conduct of the Sun Drug company's branches throughout the Southland, and the firm's specialties that are manufactured in its Los Angeles laboratories will be included in the stock of the store here. Mr. Millet declares that the stocks carried by the Jensen Drug store, and that were taken over by the new owners, are of the highest class and are carried in a variety of places in the growing communities of Southern California, and the Glendale store is the thirty-fourth of this kind in Southern California.

The purchase of the Jensen store is a part of the policy that is being followed by the Sun Drug company, to secure representation in all of the growing communities of Southern California, and the Glendale store is the thirty-fourth of this kind in Southern California.

Workers and Farmers Can Not Harmonize
STOCKTON, Sept. 22.—The political conference of the organized workers and farmers of California opened here late yesterday following closely upon the adjournment Thursday of the annual convention of the state federation of labor.

EVIDENCE POINTS TO ARSON PLOTS

Launch State-Wide Probe to Place Responsibility of $15,000,000 Fires

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Three agencies, state, federal and private, were co-operating today in a state-wide investigation to determine what part incendiaries played in setting the nearly 300 fires which blazed from Santa Barbara county to the Oregon line the past week, doing an estimated damage of between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000.

The federal investigators are centering their efforts on the causes of the Berkeley conflagration, assisted by the state department of forestry. The state investigators are busy over a wide area in twenty northern California counties following up leads gleaned from fire fighters and residents of burned areas.

The state board of underwriters, representing the insurance companies, is hard at work investigating the fires and its agents are collaborating with the state and federal investigators.

J. R. Maloney, member of the board of underwriters, declared today that a mass of evidence already in hand warrants a thorough investigation of all the fires.

"Never in the history of insurance companies have so many fires started within so few miles at one time," said Maloney. "It looks like an arson plot."

SOLONS DEFY GOVERNOR'S GUN MEN

Oklahoma Situation Tense With New Threats of Militant Action

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 22.—When informed by International News Service of Governor Walton's threat to seize firearms, patrol the highways and if necessary stop the state fair, to prevent the legislature from meeting, Representative W. D. McBeck of Duncan, who issued the call for the legislative assembly next Wednesday, said:

"We are going to meet. Nothing can turn us from that determination. Of course, we cannot whip a host of armed men. Our fight is legal, not the fight of an armed, crushing force."

By J. L. KILGALLEN
For International News Service

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 22.—Governor J. C. Walton of Oklahoma, today revealed how he proposes to prevent the members of the Oklahoma house of representatives from assembling here next Wednesday for the purpose of impeaching him.

He threatened:

- 1 To close the annual state fair, now in session.
 - 2 To confiscate all firearms, with the exception of the guards.
 - 3 To patrol all highways leading into the city, "to protect the lives of our citizens."
- "By the just God above me, and by the power vested in me as governor," Walton said, "no mob shall rule Oklahoma as long as I am above the ground and remain in that high office."

Possibility of violence when the state legislature attempts to convene at that time for the avowed purpose of impeaching Governor J. C. Walton was minimized today, although both sides in Oklahoma's bitterest political conflict (Continued on Page 8)

FARMERS FACING PROSPERITY ERA

Arizona Solon Declares 'Best Times in History' Lie Ahead of West

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—With the administration bending every effort to formulate an immediate farm relief program, President Coolidge today heard the first note of agricultural optimism sounded by a legislator returning to the capital from a trip "back home."

He was Senator Ralph H. Cameron, Republican, of Arizona.

Cameron told the president a wave of prosperity was sweeping the west with indications of the "best times in history" on the agricultural horizon. He reported reports of distress as applicable only to "certain localities," and they had been exaggerated.

Montana Suffers
At the same time Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat, Montana, reached the capital to tell of suffering among farmers in his state. He blamed high freight rates—for the farm depression.

"Take as a whole, farm conditions are prosperous in the west," Senator Cameron said. The outlook is good. I believe the greatest period of prosperity this nation has ever known is coming in the near future.

Calamity Howlers
"Right now, with the exception of a few local calamities, the west is better off financially and economically than in pre-war days. The future will be better. There are calamity howlers telling of distress throughout the west. They are all wrong. There is some suffering in the wheat belt, but other sections are in the midst of prosperity."

In the Dakotas and Minnesota, farmers may be in bad shape, but in Nevada, Wyoming, Arizona, Utah, Iowa, Illinois, Oregon, Washington and California, economic conditions are fine. The sheep, cattle, lumber and mining industries are in great shape. The farmers who raise diversified crops are making money. The corn belt is prosperous."

RELIEF MAP AIDS PROPERTY SALES

Suburban Estates Co. Shows San Fernando Valley in Exact Detail

Pacoima (Pah-koy-mah), "The City of Opportunity," lying one mile south of San Fernando, on the San Fernando boulevard at the point of intersection with Sherman way, is being put over in a unique manner by the Suburban Estates company, of Los Angeles, states Melvin E. Rickerson, manager of the Glendale branch at 206 East Broadway, a large relief map of the valley being on prominent display in each of twenty or more offices of the company.

This relief map, by means of which over 600 lots have been sold at Pacoima in the past ninety days, according to Mr. Rickerson, is scientifically accurate and portrays the exact position of every town, city, boulevard and elevation in the San Fernando valley, together with other factors of determinate interest to the prospective buyer, who can learn more of the territory by ten minutes' study of this map than by days of actual travel.

Apply for Patent

At night the many boulevards are lit by illumination from beneath, making a very vivid display. The map is the idea of A. B. Widney, general manager of the Suburban Estates company, and a patent has been applied for. Mr. Widney is the son of Judge R. M. Widney, formerly of the Los Angeles superior court and now 87 years old.

The Suburban Estates company is planning, it is stated, erection of a $25,000 bank and store building at the corner of San Fernando road and Sherman way, which latter street is soon to be paved from Michigan avenue through Ventura boulevard, whereafter prices are destined to soar.

Large lots at Pacoima run from $590 up, including all improvements, states Mr. Rickerson, while lots bearing a variety of fruit can be had for $790.

BURBANK EX-NAVY MAN HAS THEORY ON WRECK

Seismic Disturbances Cause of Destroyer Catastrophe
Says Doolittle

The $7,000,000 destroyer flotilla wreck off Arguello is attributed directly to effects of the recent seismic disturbances in Japan, by C. J. Doolittle, popular desk man of the Burbank police force, who served sixteen years in the United States navy.

"According to newspaper reports of the disaster," he says, "the boats were twenty miles off their course, or twenty miles nearer Arguello than they should have been. To one who understands how they set their courses when coming down the coast, such information as much as proves that the tides were seriously altered, as ample allowance is always made for the shoreward pull."

"As drifting sideways has no effect on the compass, navigators cannot tell in the accustomed manner how far off their course they are. While each ship is supposed to conduct its own navigating affairs to a certain extent, the flagship of the squadron is supposed to point the way. "When a flotilla or squadron starts down the coast from 'Frisco, the leading ship sets its navigation apparatus in a direct course to the farthest point out in the ocean between the starting point and the point of destination. The point where the flotilla in question went aground is evident, by that point which reaches the farthest out into the ocean."

Registration in the Burbank schools has now reached a state of equilibrium where it is possible to predict an increase in the grammar schools of 500 over last year.

SUNLAND SCHOOL BUS PLAN STILL UP IN AIR

Glendale High Board Puts Problem on Shoulders of Hill Folks

After holding a meeting to consider a petition for improved transportation arrangements for the high school students living in Sunland and Tujunga, the trustees of the Glendale Union High school took the matter under advisement because of conflicting arguments and opinions presented by parents at the meeting.

As a result of discussion among the parents as to the best means of furnishing this transportation to and from Glendale, the board has been unable to reach any conclusion and have sent out the following letter to parents of high school pupils living in the district.

"The board of trustees wish to make the arrangement for the transportation of the students from Sunland and Tujunga that will be most satisfactory to the largest number of patrons.

"The discussion last Thursday evening made it plain that no one method will be satisfactory to all. We, therefore, ask you to indicate your choice of transportation for each student of your family who is attending high school. Please use a separate sheet for each student.

"In indicating your choice, you must understand that the method you select is the one you will continue throughout the whole school year, if accepted by the board.

"There must be permanency in the method used or there cannot be satisfactory service given you either by private conveyance or public stage.

Please register your choice in the proper space below and return to the school office at once so we shall have the necessary information for our next board meeting which will be held within a few days.

"How do you wish your child to come to school?"

(a)—On the stage.
(b)—In your own auto.
(c)—In some other private machine.
(d)—If in some other private machine, are you able to make the necessary arrangements?

"Very truly yours,
"Harry V. Brown.
"Clerk, Board of Trustees."

Cannot Finance Bus
A majority of the sentiment in the Sunland district appear to favor a bus run by the high school district, but Mr. Oliver, business manager of the high school, stated that the school is not in a position, financially, to put on a bus of its own at this time.

The petition was circulated in Sunland and Tujunga by Mrs. Gardner, who has two children of high school age, and received a majority of favorable signatures. At the meeting, however, several signers expressed a desire to withdraw leaving the board in doubt as to just what was desired. They have adopted the straw vote plan as a possible solution of the problem.

To Increase Stock
In anticipation of favorable action by the stockholders at the meeting to be held on October 20, for the purpose of authorizing an increase in the capital stock to $50,000, the directors of the Sunland Rural Telephone Company have been soliciting loan subscriptions from business men of Sunland and Tujunga. These loans are made with the understanding that they may be turned into stock subscriptions later at the option of the subscriber.

This has been done to secure funds for immediate use in financing the extensive improvements the company plans to make.

Between $5000 and $6000 will be needed to effect these improvements. About $3100 will be needed for the construction of the new office and exchange building at Palm and Los Angeles streets, contract for which has been let to R. J. Smith of Tujunga.

The building plans call for four rooms, to comprise the office, operating room, rest room and sleeping quarters for night operators. There will also be a basement for storage purposes.

New equipment will be installed with the balance of the money, which will include additional long distance lines.

Street Improvements
The regional planning commission has recommended to the county supervisors the following extensions and improvement of streets:

Los Angeles street: from Michigan avenue west through the Hart ranch to the Hansen Heights road; Sherman street to be opened to connect with Hill street and other minor changes.

LESS COMMON LABOR
Figures for the fiscal year just passed show that more northern Europeans are coming to the United States now than in 1921-22, while emigration of common labor is less than formerly.

FINE FALL BUSINESS
Reports from 190 wholesale and retail merchants indicate that fall business has opened strong and with a fair agricultural return from crops in this section, should continue satisfactory throughout the fall and winter.

View avenue is reported to have changed hands three times before the ink was dry on the papers. Improvements in the streets in this community, accomplished and promised, is creating additional interest, while the installation of gas for domestic use is the clinching argument used by realtors.

TUJUNGA BAROMETER SAYS BUSINESS BETTER

Building, Water Meters and School Enrollment Are Compared

By F. A. GRAHAM
OF THE Evening News Staff

The development barometer continues to indicate prosperity in Tujunga. Building continues unabated, while school enrollment figures, water and electric light meters in use, compared with like periods of previous years, bear irrefutable evidence of an increasing population of a solid sort that means for permanent homes and sound business.

As was expected, the school was taxed to the limit on opening day and additional enrollment during the week brought the total up to 318. More are entering school each week and this rapid increase has caused the trustees to authorize the retention of another teacher to handle the overflow of the overcrowded first, third and fourth grades. The trustees have received assurance from the county offices that funds will be available for this purpose.

That will make a total of ten teachers this year, whereas seven were sufficient last year.

Mrs. B. B. Reynolds, clerk of the board, has returned from a trip east to find the trustees with plenty of work on their hands, as a result of the increase in attendance, building the new school and other business.

Teacher Resigns

Mrs. C. G. Reilly has resigned as a teacher in the Tujunga schools on account of a change in her husband's employment that makes their residence in Tujunga inconvenient.

The trustees accepted her resignation, to take effect as soon as a suitable teacher can be secured to fill her place.

C. N. Perry, a pioneer grocer of Pasadena, has purchased a frontage of 138 feet on Michigan avenue, near Walnut, and plans to erect at once a 40 by 60 foot concrete grocery and market building.

Mr. Perry has been in business in Pasadena for eighteen years and considers this location ideal for his business, after a careful study and inspection of the valley.

The building will have plate-glass front and will be fully equipped to accommodate an up-to-date grocery and meat market, with a refrigerating plant for the meat.

Mr. Perry also plans to build a home and bring his family to Tujunga and will build other business blocks on his property if the demand he anticipates materializes.

This deal is held as an indication of the coming business center that property owners of the Walnut drive section have predicted.

SENIOR OFFICERS ELECTED AT H. S.

Principal George U. Moyses
Addresses Meeting of Upper Classmen

The senior class of 1924 of Glendale Union High school held a short business meeting yesterday afternoon. Vice-president, secretary and treasurer were elected at that time. The election returns were: Dante La Franchi, vice-president; Irvin Carver, secretary; and Arlin McCormick, treasurer.

The meeting was called to order by Theodore Haig, who was elected president last year. He turned over the meeting to Mr. Moyses, who told the seniors what they would have to do to provide for their college recommendations. He pointed out the fact that the senior year was not just a year to loaf in, but that one should study just as hard as in former classes.

Small Mid-Year Class
Mr. Moyses stated that he would like very much to have those students who plan to graduate next February, take a post graduate course so that they could have one commencement class and not have to bother with the small mid-year exercises.

"Teed" told the students that the senior rings would be ready in about a month and that orders will be taken soon. He also stated the fact that the dues this year would be $2, this price being necessary in order to carry out the senior activity plans. The meeting was adjourned before the final count was given out, but those wishing to know the results stayed behind and waited.

Record of Officers

Dante La Franchi is very well fitted to co-operate with "Teed" Haig in making the senior class a successful one. He was class reporter in his sophomore year, and has a fine record as quarterback on the light-weight football team. Irvin "Bub" Carver will be able to take the minutes well, being fitted along this line by reason of his journalistic experience. He is now sport editor on The Explosion.

Arlin McCormick has never held a class office, but he has worked on every 1924 class event that has taken place.

The election returns were as follows:

For vice-president—Dante La Franchi, 38; Florence McLaughlin, 31.
Secretary—Irvin Carver, 37; Catherine Guthrie, 27.
Treasurer—Arlin McCormick, 58; Burton Kuntzner, 10.

Local Merchant Tells of Shortage in Silk

The tendency this fall is toward higher prices in good merchandise, reports W. G. Lauderdale, proprietor of the Irish Linen Store, 117 North Brand boulevard.

"The recent disaster in Japan has caused a decided buying movement in this country," he says, "which in turn has caused a real shortage of desirable silks, hosiery, underwear, ribbons and such goods."

"The Irish Linen Store will, however, be able to maintain the same prices as heretofore, owing to the fact that we have invested heavily at the prices prevailing thirty days ago, having much merchandise either in transit or in stock."

"Not only in silks, but in blankets, woolen dress goods and in fact throughout our store," says Mr. Lauderdale, "this same policy holds true. Having bought before the rise, we can pass our good fortune along to our customers."

Air Service Across Atlantic Is Planned

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Preparations are now almost complete for the establishment of what will be the first trans-Atlantic airway. It is anticipated that trial trips will be made in the spring of next year, but no definite date has yet been fixed for the inauguration of the service proper.

Airships of the Zeppelin type are to be used, and there will be two simultaneous flights each week in each direction. The time allowed for the crossing, which is between Spain and the United States, will be three days and ten hours.

It is estimated that the airships, which will be fitted with nine engines developing a total of 3600 horsepower, will accommodate forty passengers and about ten tons of mail and other freight, and will be capable of a speed of about eighty-two miles an hour.

American Company to Build Roman Subways

ROME, Sept. 22.—Work will shortly be begun on Rome's first subway, if plans which have been submitted to the municipality by an American syndicate are approved.

Many previous subway projects have been abandoned owing to the nature of the subsoil, it being feared that the foundations of the Roman palaces and other architectural treasures might be injured, but it is stated that these difficulties have been overcome.

FIND SKULL IN RUINS

BERKELEY, Sept. 22.—The first direct evidence of loss of life in the fire which destroyed 641 residences here Monday was unearthed when a skull was found in the ruins. A party under the direction of Coroner Grant Miller is continuing the search.

$100,000 STATE MAP IN ART RELIEF

J. T. Edwards, F. R. G. S.,

New York, (in 600,000 pieces), the large New York state model, the Canadian Water Power exhibit and the irrigation exhibit for the Canadian Pacific railroad, was among those who conferred on the California relief map at this time. With the assistance of the Permanent California State Exhibit committee, comprising R. B. Hale, A. B. C. Dohrmann, C. W. Hesler, George E. Crothers and H. P. Vollmer, the next two years were spent in visiting the boards of supervisors of the counties of the state laying before them the vast plan for the visualization of California, and securing their endorsement and support.

Infinite Detail in Work
J. T. Edwards then mobilized his large staff and began combing the state for data. A large portfolio was prepared for each of the fifty-eight counties. Into these portfolios went government maps of the geological survey, maps of the county surveyor, maps of the hydrographic department, forest service, department of irrigation, aeroplane maps and all manner of other surveys obtainable, together with every statistic available, along geographical lines.

At the present time Mr. Edwards has helped in every county of the state, gathering information and specimens of plants, animals, minerals, fish, insects and other animal and inanimate things, all of which will be assembled in the exhibit, either on the titanic map itself or in cabinets ranging around the map of the state.

In the construction of this map literally tons of materials are being used. These are being purchased in Glendale, insofar as is possible, Mr. Edwards states, the Bentley Lumber company, Gregg Hardware company and the Department store furnishing large quantities of building materials, metal and cloth, respectively.

Uses Natural Colors
The finished map will be in natural colors, with a foreground looking through the mighty mountains to the eastward, showing California from Nevada and Arizona. Every town and city will be plainly visible, the scale of six inches to a mile allowing Glendale to show up as a large clump of buildings over a foot square.

An attractive feature will be miniatures of every important building in the state, among them all missions and other historic structures. El Camino Real will be plainly visible in its entirety, showing how it led, in the old days, from mission to mission. Such local buildings as Penderoy's, the Bern building, the new Security Trust & Savings now rising, the Lawson building and others will be plainly visible on this map, which will show Glendale's commanding position at the head of the San Fernando valley.

Shows Development
The great agricultural development, as well as industrial progress, of the state will be vividly shown on this monster map, states Mr. Edwards. The wheat and alfalfa fields, irrigation areas, vast forest reserves, fruit-bearing districts and farm lands will all be shown in all their splendor.

Particularly interesting will be the lighting effects, showing morning, noon and night in their progress across the state. When the darkness comes, the thousands of buildings that dot the cities, towns and villages, and the great flood replica of California will gleam with lights, illuminating trains crawling along roadbeds, auto lights will sparkle over highways, lighthouses on the coast will flash their warnings and a picture of romantic beauty will be unfolded.

Mr. Edwards, fellow of the Royal Geographical society and world traveler, has for twenty-five years been a modeler and maker of maps, in the United States, Canada, Europe and Africa. He was with Cecil Rhodes in South Africa thirty years ago, where he first leaped into prominence by modeling and shipping to London a replica of the famous DeBeers mines.

Plan to Map Mexico
He went to South Africa as a young man, serving for years with the Charter company. In 1912 he became a F. R. G. S. He is now planning, upon completion of the present commission, to undertake construction of a detail map of Mexico entire, feeling that this is the next great country to command the attention of the world.

Mr. Edwards believes that ultimately the United States government will cause to have constructed in Washington a vast relief map of this country, thousands of feet in diameter, to be housed in a special great building, where it will at once become a wonder of the modern world.

Winners in Puzzle Contest to Be Told

The winners in the Popular Song prize puzzle page that was published in The Glendale Evening News last week will be announced in the issue of Monday, September 24.

So many sent in answers to the puzzle that it has taken a great deal of time to check them, but the list is now almost completed and the names of those who solved the puzzle correctly will be printed.

COMMENT That's All

State Politics Boil Over.
Reputation and Sermons.
Have Your Own Thoughts.
'The Last Ten Minutes'
By Gil A. Cowan

ANOTHER sensation in state politics. Senator Hiram Johnson's supporters are endeavoring to attribute the publication of the now famous McClatchy-Boynton letter to efforts of Governor Richardson's organization. All of which means that a bitter political row is being engendered in this state.

The writer cannot believe that Governor Richardson would condone the theft of a personal and confidential letter. We cannot blame Senator Johnson from boiling over in wrath at the breach of etiquette exhibited by one Andrew M. Lawrence of San Francisco.

Indeed, we can see where Mr. Lawrence is exerting efforts on his own behalf to boost the Daily Journal's stock in trade—circulation. And other newspapers in recognizing Mr. Lawrence simply add to his prestige.

Statements attributed to Senator Johnson in the McClatchy letter should be ignored and forgotten. Likewise, the charges that Governor Richardson was a party to a theft of confidential correspondence should be ignored and forgotten.

For, if it is simply a matter of ruining personal reputation there is no end. Personally, the writer believes he expresses the thought of thousands of admirers of the Senator when he says that nothing should be left undone to promote the presidential possibilities of the one outstanding Californian.

Likewise, we reflect the thought of thousands of others who believe that Governor Richardson and his regime of economy and efficiency are most timely in the progress and prosperity of the state.

Speaking of personal reputation brings to mind how little some people possess. And yet all business is supposed to be built on that very thing. It seems strange, indeed, how the most immoral and insensate creatures of the earth sometimes are able to control our finances in part, and literally demand the pound of flesh from good people.

We do dearly love to read sermons on the good Lord driving the money changers out of the temple. For, we read sermons every Monday morning instead of going to hear them on Sunday. And we enjoy them who peruse the pastors' procrements.

Sometimes our sky pilots deal with the torments of hell fire. We would like to invite them into a newspaper office where a growing city has its growing pains concentrated into the columns of a growing newspaper.

By golly, it is hot stuff, this molten lead we pour into iron bound forms. We have always noted the student of theology shies away from a newspaper office the same as a colt from a railroad engine.

We can't blame 'em, either. Someone suggests that we write a comment on the automobile regulation, and their enforcement. Ah, we might do that, but you can think what we think, or think for yourself what you may. And we will agree with you.

Another suggests we might speak of the prevailing prosperity and development, yet it is the facts, such as they are, assembled before you in the real estate section of tonight's edition of The Glendale Evening News.

So it goes. A labor of love, this comment column. We could command much more written at publicity. It is being written at 11:30 o'clock Friday night, just ten minutes before midnight when the printers will go home and we will lock up the office and call it a day.

Regarding those ten minutes we are going to take the privilege of reprinting an editorial appearing in the San Bernardino Sun recently. Here it is for your perusal.

"The last ten minutes are the hardest. The last ten minutes before a long journey ends, the last ten minutes before the lover meets his adored, the last ten minutes before the jury's verdict, the last ten minutes before the splints of a broken limb are removed, the last ten minutes before a hard-fought battle is reached—these ten minutes are superlatively hard to pass. But the ten minutes that seem the hardest to some persons are the ten before the day's work ends.

"Coming at the end, when body and mind are weary, the last ten minutes of the daily task are naturally hard. They are hard for the industriously inclined, for the honest toiler, for the machinist or carpenter or miner or clerk or typist or any other employee interested in his or her job and holding the interest of employer at heart. But to those who rate their job as a galley task, who keep one eye on the clock as the minute hand draws near closing time, who are fearful lest they give their employer a second overtime—the last ten minutes are a time of torture. To such they will always be hard to pass. For the fact that they are so held gives them constancy in repetition as ten times sixty seconds of irksome effort.

"This also places the sufferer out of the running for promotion that would ultimately spell relief. For those who finish the day's job with one eye on the clock do not finish the race for advancement and forfeit title to preferment that goes to the workers showing interest in their task."

An artist's ideal reposes on a canvas and a poet's ideal frequently in a waste-basket.

President Names Veteran Employee Capitol Architect

DAVID LYNN

GOVERNOR DEFIED BY LEGISLATORS

Oklahoma Situation Tense
With New Threats of Militant Action

admitted the situation was fraught with dangers.

"There will be no session of the legislature," Governor Walton reiterated. "There will be no unlawful Klan assembly."

Yet trains arriving in Oklahoma City brought state legislators who came to attend the called session. Many insisted they were not Klansmen.

Meet in Hotel
They went at once to the Skirvin hotel, where, within a smoke-filled suite, the anti-Waltonites discussed with warmth their intention to meet, "no matter what happens," and regardless of martial law.

"If the governor wants to arrest us or shoot us, he will make considerable history," one prominent legislator asserted. W. D. McBee of Duncan, leader of the legislative movement against Walton, and Representative W. I. Cunningham of Sapulpa said it would be better to meet at "Mad Jack" bodyguard, not the military.

Picturesque Bodyguard
Walton's "bodyguard" is the subject of the most bitter tirades. The governor has an armed personal bodyguard of, at best, twenty men. Some say there are as many as 130, as does Colonel Zach Mulhall, one of the two really picturesque of the bodyguard. The other is Buck Garrett, famous two-gunned, nationally known as former sheriff of Carter county. Garrett figured prominently as a bodyguard in the Clara Smith Hamen murder trial at Ardmore. He is six feet two inches tall, weighing well over 200 pounds.

Mulhall once was a crack cowboy, and for a long time was connected with the "101 Ranch" circus. He is a gruff, gray-haired man with a large gray sombrero and Buffalo Bill beard.

Klan Controls Legislature
"Jack" Walton has an army of men "ready to go the limit for him." It is related that the governor has granted hundreds of permits. They have been given to his friends "upon request," and are held by mechanics, farmers, reporters, barbers, business men—in fact, men in all walks of life, and no favorites played.

Walton alleges that sixty-eight out of the 110 members of the state legislature "are members of the Ku Klux Klan." Therefore, he asserts, the impending session is "an unlawful Klan assembly."

"What is the situation in the senate?" The governor was asked. "I should say that fifty-one percent of the senate are members of the Klan," he replied.

His Work Wins Friends
The governor said he was receiving messages of congratulations on his fight against the Klan from all over the country. He expressed satisfaction over the halfway the military court is making, culminating in the arrest of Grand Dragon Jewett. Jewett entered a plea of not guilty, when arraigned last night, and was released on $1000 bond.

The alleged flogging of E. R. Merriman, in which Jewett is accused of taking part, took place on March 7, 1922. Merriman, said to be a driver of a laundry wagon, was reported to have been friendly with a married woman, which he denied. He left Oklahoma City shortly after the alleged whipping party.

Other Arrests Expected
Jewett's arrest was the first here, resulting from the military court investigation. Other arrests are expected.

The arrest of three men as alleged flingers at Shawnee was the first three as a consequence of the Klan whipping investigation being conducted here. Those arrested were:

Ernest Brundage, Oklahoma City, employee of a produce concern; Louis Shull, manager of a

—A house built for his own home by a man engaged in the lumber business and acquainted with the building game. It was built cheaper than you could possibly build it now. The lot was bought for a great deal less than you could buy one in the same class of neighborhood now. And yet he is offering it to you at cost to himself. It is a chance seldom offered to homeseekers in Glendale, and one worthy of your serious consideration.

For a few days we are offering it at this price, but we advise that you see it now, for tomorrow may be a day too late. TWELVE SITES IN FOOTHILL TRACT

Ingladue Realty Co. Offers
Cumberland Heights to Home Buyers

In announcing Cumberland Heights, first subdivision of the Ingladue Realty company, East Broadway and Glendale avenue, C. W. Ingladue points particularly to the size of the twelve sites offered, none being less than 7,500 square feet in area.

Cumberland Heights is located above Kenneth road, between Grand View avenue on the west and Cleveland road on the east, the north boundary being Cumberland road. Nestling at the very foot of picturesque, historic Mount Verdugo, overlooking the business center of Glendale and affording unsurpassed vistas of the San Fernando valley from Eagle Rock to Owensmouth, in a district of rising values, Cumberland Heights offers, in the estimation of Mr. Ingladue, the most attractive investment he has ever handled.

"At prices of $2200 and up, including all improvements and with adequate restrictions," he says, "and in a community you will be proud to live in, we should sell out the entire twelve lots in one day. For this reason we are announcing the tract today, but not putting it on sale until next Tuesday, September 25, so as to allow prospective buyers a chance to look it over and think it over, between now and then."

"When $2,200 will buy a 51 by 180 foot lot in the most desirable residential section of Glendale, where whole streets of expensive homes are going in, and when we have only twelve lots to offer, how long do you think it will last? For that reason, prospective buyers are urged to go out to the tract at once and size up the situation. Then, by making a small deposit, a lot may be reserved until Tuesday, when it can be bought."

Salesmen are at Cumberland Heights all day, except Sunday, states Mr. Ingladue, who asks buyers to take to the tract anyone calling at his office. The tract is approached by driving up Central avenue to Kenneth road, then west to Cumberland road, the first street, where Cumberland Heights is located.

Shawnee commercial company, and Lafayette Evans of Shawnee. They were accused of flogging L. C. Sowers, an insurance man, on the night of June 21, 1922.

New evidence which may result in additional arrests has been unearthed by the governor's court of military inquiry, it was reported here today, and is the reason back of the summoning of Adjutant General G. H. Markham to Oklahoma City from Tulsa, where he has been conducting a court of inquiry since August 14.

Citrus Fruit to Set New Record in 1923

All previous annual records put forth by the citrus industry of California will be broken during the present year, which ends October 31, and which marks the shipping of 62,000 carloads of citrus fruit from this state.

An average of 100 car loads of oranges are now being shipped daily to eastern markets. It is estimated that from nine to ten thousand car loads remain to be shipped during the present year.

One of the causes, it was stated, for the stability of the eastern orange market is the increasing use as a beverage of orange juice and orangeade, the result of an educational campaign conducted by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

Division of Animal Industry
Tells Action to Prevent
Cattle Diseases

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22.—For the year 1922 California is credited with 1,400,000 range cattle, 635,000 dairy cows, 2,500,000 sheep, 835,000 swine and 430,000 horses and mules, according to Dr. J. P. Iverson, chief of the state division of animal industry.

"This state also has 30,000 dairy farms, and 1250 factories of all kinds for the manufacture of various dairy products," continued Dr. Iverson. "At the present time California is practically free from many of the serious diseases of livestock, it is essential to maintain constant vigilance to avoid losses occasioned by such diseases as anthrax, blackleg and Texas fever in cattle, glanders in horses and mules, tuberculosis in cattle and hog cholera."

Cattle Are Examined
Upwards of 100,000 dairy cows are examined annually by representatives of the division of animal industry to exclude diseased cattle from the herds.

"The dairy service of the division regulates standard of dairy products by making chemical and bacteriological tests of all milk, cream, butter, cheese and oleomargarine sold in the state. Violators of this law are relentlessly prosecuted."

Forty meat establishments now are operating under state supervision and the number of cattle inspected during the first half of the present year amounts to 133,510, a material increase over any preceding term of six months.

Ultimately, said Dr. Iverson, the extinction of tuberculosis among cattle will be achieved, and California will be a state in which non-tuberculous, pure-bred herds will be universal.

Coaches and Fans See New Material Perform in Afternoon Play

By J. EVERT SMITH
For The Glendale Evening News
BERKELEY, Sept. 22.—As the California varsity eleven takes the field this afternoon against the all-star Alumni team, the football world has its first chance to see what Andy Smith has been able to do with his 1923 material in one week of practice.

If the Bruin eleven can overcome the individual brilliancy of the various members of the Alumni aggregation by close teamwork and thus win the game, the dopesters will predict another championship team.

If the one week of coaching has been insufficient to form a machine and Erb, Toomey, Sprott and Morrison begin to go through the Bruin line for scores, these same dopesters will forecast an unsuccessful year.

The game can not be taken as a definite gauge of the quality of this year's team, however, for Andy's championship teams have gained their fame through teamwork. The contest is attracting unusual attention, however, because it will give the coaches and fans a chance to see how the new material will come through under fire.

Although the training was slightly interrupted by the Berkeley fire, the squad has had a stiff workout every night during the past week. Very few are being admitted to California field to see the squad at work for Andy has posted a big, black sign over the only unlocked gate which reads, "No Admittance—Football Men Only—Secret Practice."

AUTO PLANTS MAKE NEW MARK IN OUTPUT

Many Changes in Lines and Engine Design; Heavy Production Record

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 22.

Many indelible tints of the motor horizon indicate the rapid transformation that is taking place in the automotive industry today. Departures in both body and engine design over and above the usual readjustment of prices, herald a season that promises to be exceptionally interesting for the larger companies and exciting for the smaller firms. Never in the history of the industry have so many new models been introduced at this time of the year. Nearly twenty companies have brought out new lines in the last six weeks. Among these were seven or eight that showed notable departures from the 1923 lines. In the same period about fifteen concerns announced new prices, all downward with three exceptions.

Output Mounts

After some let down in the summer the factories are again getting into full swing of production. Output of Detroit plants is mounting measurably each week. Great as the activity is in the factories, it is stopped by the keen attention and watchfulness that prevails in the executive offices. Important happenings that are noted almost every day point to a year of the liveliest sort of competition.

Engineering genius, begotten of sustained accomplishment and long experience, has created a most remarkable vehicle for individual transportation. Increasing efficiency and greater production have enabled factories to build cars at the lowest price ever. Pencils were sharpened to a fine edge.

More motorwise than ever, the public is taking advantage of the condition. So great has been the demand on several of the Detroit companies that brought out new lines recently that deliveries cannot be made for three or four weeks. These particular factories are racing to meet the demand. The limiting factor is the body question.

Buick Sets Record

Buick is outstripping its own high records. When the company produced 11,500 cars in August of 1922, it not only exceeded all production records for that month, but was so far in excess that it became the absorbing topic of motor-dom. Yet it is reported at the Buick factory that the August just passed witnessed the production of more than 16,000 of new 1924 line. This accomplishment was distinguished by the breaking of another Buick record for all time (Continued on Page 2)

State-Wide Drive to Dim Glaring Headlight Evil

THE division of Motor Vehicles announces the first big objective in a state-wide campaign to make the highways of California safe will be the reduction and subsequent entire elimination of the glaring headlight evil. A drive to that end, according to bulletins being sent this week to captains of all county traffic squads now operating under state direction, as well as captains of city squads which have expressed the desire of co-operating with the state forces.

The state force now consists of thirty units, with a total of ninety-five men, and five inspectors at large, which will be augmented in this drive by the county and city squads of Los Angeles and San Francisco, and the city squads of San Diego, Fresno, Stockton and Sacramento.

Glaring headlights, lights out of focus, single lights on automobiles, tail lights out, and excessive candle power globes will receive attention in the first drive.

Approximately 200 official headlight adjusting stations have been established in the thirty counties of the state in which traffic officers have been appointed. Lists of the official stations will be in the hands of the respective county captains before the drive is started.

Gas Tax Is Painless; Tire Saving Pays It

A set of tires costing $150 may run for 10,000 miles on average roads. The same set will run double the mileage on improved highways. The average car travels 10,000 miles per year. Therefore, the average tire cost, supposing average size and quality of tires are purchased, is $150 per year on dirt roads and $75 on fine roads.

Ten thousand miles of running, at an average of fifteen miles to the gallon, requires 666 2-3 gallons of gas. If gas is taxed 2 cents a gallon, the average runner of 10,000 miles pays $13.33 per year in gas tax. In a state where there are 100,000 automobiles, which is less than the average, California, for instance, has about a million, the net income from the gas tax, above outlined, would be $1,333,000.

At $25,000 per mile, that sum will build fifty-three miles of improved highways. If there are a million cars, 530 miles of improved highways could be built a year from the tax.

Where the roads are unimproved, the 100,000 car owners spend $7,500,000 a year on tires, which they otherwise would save. The million car owners would spend $75,000,000 on tires they otherwise would save.

Proponents of the argument say that a tax on gasoline spent on roads is the one and only "painless tax."

STATE GAINS IN NUMBER OF CARS

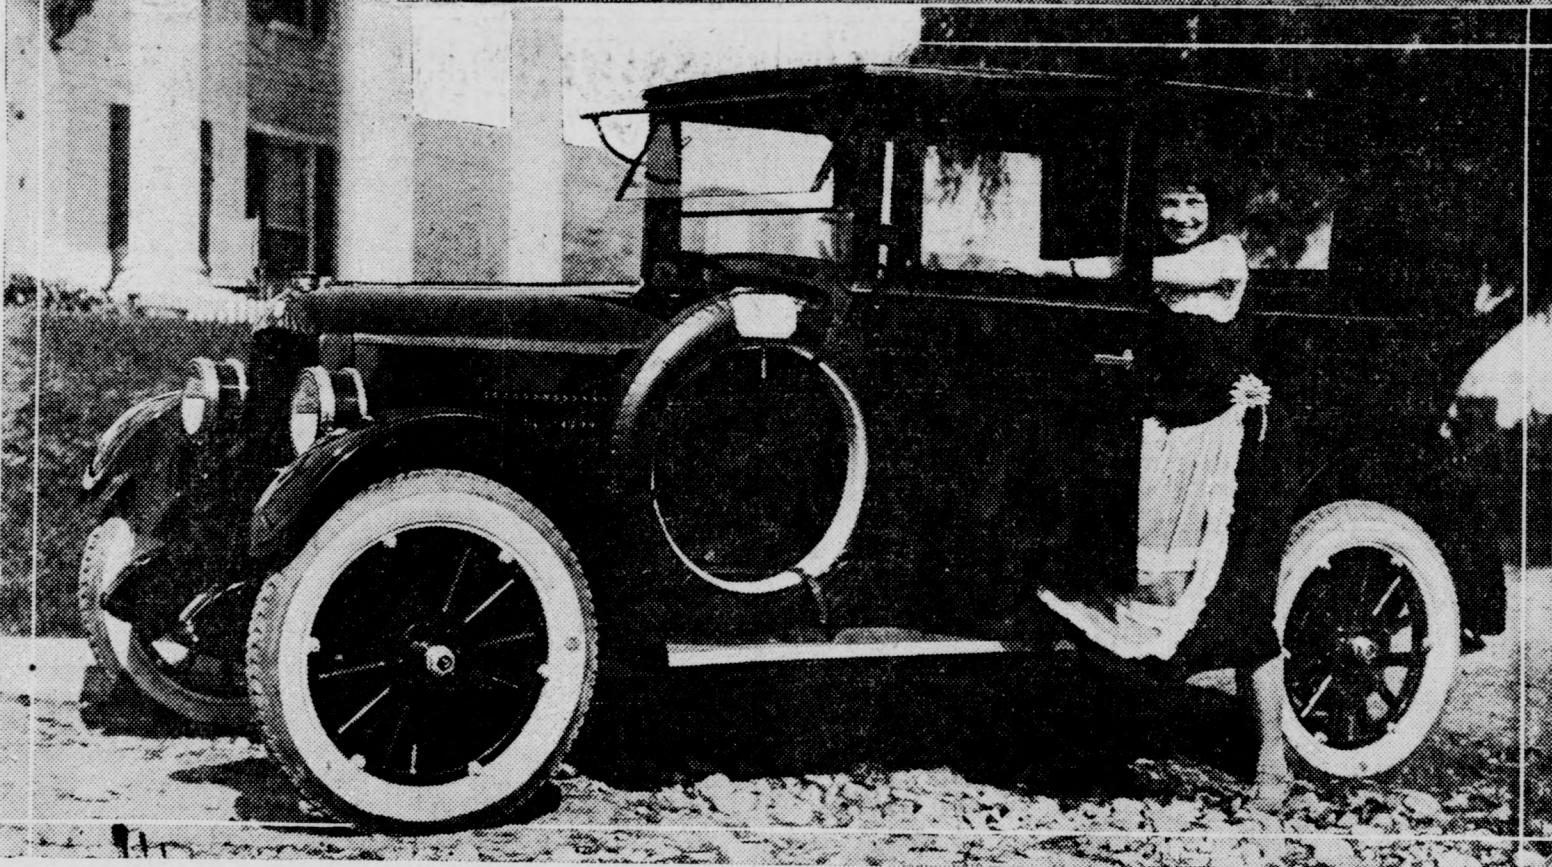

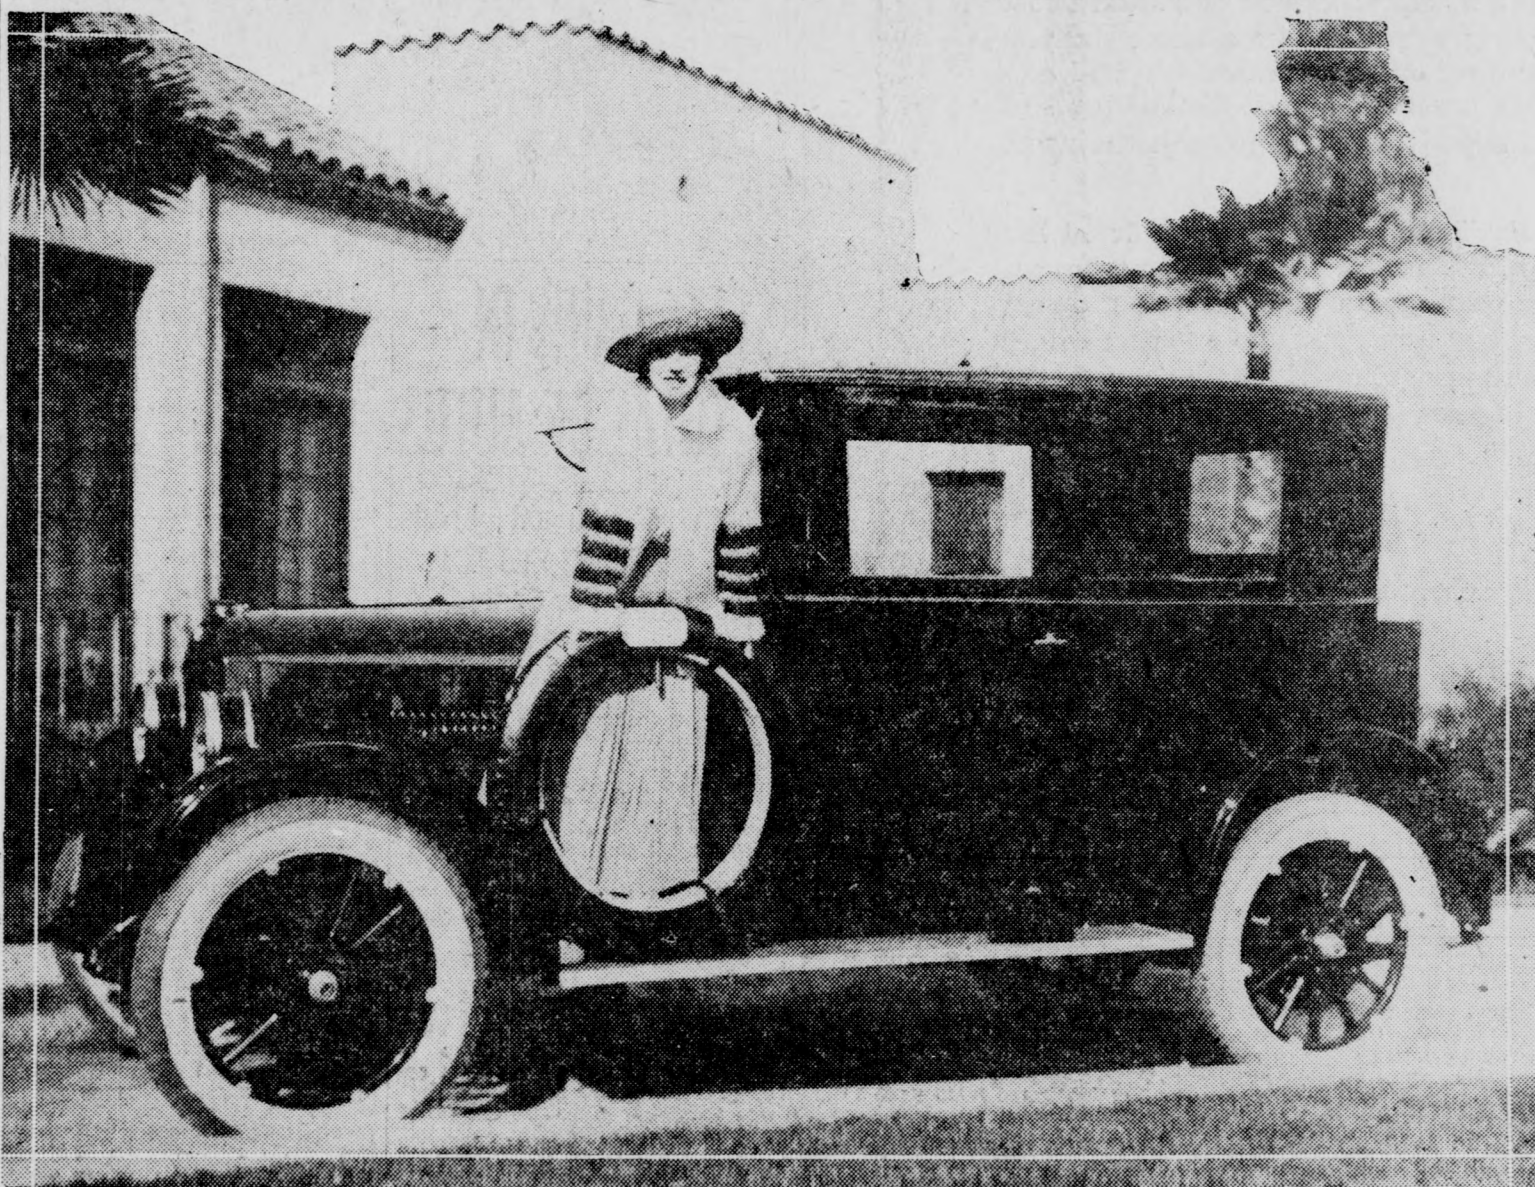

California In August Is Far Ahead of Record For 1922 Month

California's buying of automobiles last month falls as yet to disclose the decided falling off that some students of the trend of the trade feared would be in evidence during this summer's windup.

While the state's July record of 21,721 was not quite reached, 20,515 new automobiles and motor trucks were sold in California during August, according to figures published in the September issue of Motor Registrations News. This total compares to 15,849 sales of cars and commercial vehicles made during August, 1922. The increase of 4,666 represents a net gain of 29 per cent as well as being additional unmistakable evidence of California's continued prosperity.

Ease of Operation and Control Are Among Good Points Of Car, Says Distributor; Every Accessory Already Provided

By RALPH A. LYND
Of The Evening News Staff

THE ideal car for a woman is the description applied to the latest Paige-Detroit Company's creation, the new Jewett Six Brougham, which is being shown in advance of its regularly scheduled date by the local distributor, Ralph V. Bliss, 308 East Colorado street.

In stressing the advantages of the Jewett Six Brougham for the use of its fair owners, F. S. Faden, sales manager for the firm, points out that its ease of operation and of control render it the woman's car par excellence, while the rich velvet upholstery and the deep springs afford a standard of comfort that is unrivaled. For shopping, the car handles easily in the thickest traffic, stops quickly under the grip of the powerful brakes, starts quickly and with a minimum of effort in shifting gears, and turns in a short radius.

For Evening Use As a car for evening use, the wide windows can be closed when its occupant moves abroad in her filmy wraps, sheltering her from the cold night air and permitting her to reach her destination without being forced to submit to the chill air of the night or the breezes that might tend to disturb the perfection of her toilette.

For touring purposes, the Jewett Six Brougham, with its roomy seats, its commodious trunk on the trunk rack at the rear, offers the vehicle that allows its owner to brave any kind of weather, while the powerful Jewett motor is ready to meet any demand that may be made on it, from a tearing rush along the boulevard to a steady climb up any and every kind of grade.

Ready to Roll

Every possible accessory that adds to the comfort of the motorist is a part of the car when the buyer takes it over from the agent, ready for the highway as it rolls off the floor of the showroom. The extras include an extra tire and tire cover, sun visor, windshield wiper, cowl ventilator, trunk and trunk rack, while the instrument board, on which the various instruments are grouped compactly, allows the driver to control the car with ease and the least possible effort.

Australians Turn to American Built Cars

Eighty per cent of the automobiles in use in Australia are imported from the United States. In fact, Australia is today, as it has been in the past, America's leading export market for motor cars. It imported from the United States in 1922 $23,000,000 worth of automobiles and parts, and is now buying from us 60 per cent of its motor chassis, bodies, equipment and spare parts. Aside from this, its imports of chassis from the Canadian factories of American manufacturers represents approximately 20 per cent of its total purchases.

FIGURES GIVE INDICATION OF COMING INCREASE

Enormous Growth Sure to Result in Traffic, so Reports Predict

ALL records for summer activity of motorists in the national parks were broken by the increase of travel over that of any previous season, according to actual figures compiled in Los Angeles yesterday.

Officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California have checked up the season's touring volume, securing telegraphic reports from the nation's greatest playgrounds in order to arrive at a general understanding of summer motoring conditions.

It is shown in this report that 188,866 automobiles carrying 713,942 persons visited the national parks of America, three of which are located in California, during the summer. And while Bear Valley is not listed among the national parks, estimated figures from that section of the southern part of the state show that the greatest number of motorists entered that recreational center. Motor travel into Yosemite Valley showed an increase of thirty per cent over motor travel there last year for the summer season.

Show Great Increase

The number of automobiles visiting Sequoia and General Grant National Parks increased fifty per cent this summer. The increase into Yellowstone National Park was thirty per cent.

Auto club officials declare that these figures give a hint of what to expect next year in motor car volume of travel. Even at the present enormous rate of increase the motor travel next year will be at least fifty per cent greater than this year, and in many instances, says the club, it will be one hundred per cent greater.

Glacier National Park was visited by 4,534 automobiles this season and a total of 29,084 persons which arrived by both train and motor. Yellowstone park was visited by 91,890 individuals and by 26,921 automobiles. Sequoia National Park in California had 29,095 visitors and 9,572 autos. General Grant part entertained 44,061 visitors and was host to 11,584 cars.

Don't Scatter Lunch Boxes, Tin Cans and Other Rubbish, Request

"House-cleaning the highways" following the greatest summer season of motor travel ever known, is the popular task at present throughout the southern part of the state, according to information just issued by the Automobile Club of Southern California, says M. B. Towman of the Glendale branch.

Just as the housewives are undertaking their fall sweeping bees, so the various counties are ridding the roads of rubbish scattered far and wide by summer vacationists in this part of the state. Various communities report that unusual carelessness has been shown by motorists during the past summer in strewing the various boulevards with lunch boxes, tin cans and all sorts of rubbish which they threw from their cars on the way home from camping parties.

PROPER PLACEMENT

Extreme care should be exercised when dry cells are used for ignition purposes to keep them in a dry place. Even though the cells may be new, any dampness will cause them to short circuit, and when this takes place there will be hard work starting the engine.

When descending a hill, close the throttle. This is not only safer, but will save gasoline.

STATE GAINS IN TOTAL OF AUTOS

Month of August Leads Same Period in 1922 By 29 Per Cent

year as it has in the first eight months, this state will have bought by January 1 over 270,000 cars and trucks during 1923, a volume, Motor News publishers anticipate, considerably in excess of the aggregate purchases made in all of New York state. The expected total this state should purchase during the current year will establish it as an unprecedented leader in ownership of automobiles.

Southern California, in buying 12,178 cars and trucks, netted a gain of 43 per cent, while Northern California motorists and business firms took possession of 8,337 new motor vehicles, an aggregate of 13 per cent more than was bought in the northern forty-seven counties during August, 1922.

The southern eleven counties registered 10,775 automobiles, a gain of 43 per cent, and the north is credited with 7,329 new cars, an increase of 14 per cent.

L. A. County Leads
Truck sales totaled 2,406, and they were divided, 1,493 in the south, an advance of 43 per cent, and 1,003 in the north, a gain for the latter district of 2 per cent.

Los Angeles county easily leads all others in sales volume with a total of 3,242, compared to 2,206 in August a year ago. San Francisco county is second with 1,645 new registrations in contrast to 1,497. Alameda county comes third with 1,199 sales in contrast to 1,061.

Fresno is fourth among the counties with 744 sales, against 757 in August, 1922. Orange county moved from sixth into fifth place in making 591 sales, compared to 475.

AUTO FACTORIES SET NEW RECORD

Heavy Production Mark Is Put Up; Changes in Engine, Designs

—792 Buicks having been made in one day on August 31.

Faces Cancellations
One maker of a popular car is facing daily cancellations because the company that manufactures the bodies is not able to sustain the pace. Companies that brought out new lines recently must be able to make deliveries more quickly or the orders will be lost or transferred.

A particular trend that is not yet public is the attention that is being given the light six—a light small motored car that will sell from $800 to $1000. At least five new cars of this description are in the making and will be ready before the snow flies.

Easily the most notable development of the week was the announcement of the Cadillac V-63. Inner circles have known for some months that Cadillac planned to improve the V-type, but for various reasons no mention of the fact was possible until recently. Production of the car disposes of reports that the company would announce a radical departure in engine design. Prices have been increased from $100 on the open models to $260 on the standard closed cars. There is no perceptible vibration in the new V-63.

Set New Marks

Ford is getting into full swing on the production of the new car. Output for the week was 40,979 cars and trucks. This is 7514 more than the previous week. Lincoln output continues to range around 200 cars a week. Hup expects to surpass its entire 1922 total by the end of October. September production has been set at 4400 cars. Factory schedule calls for capacity output to be continued indefinitely. Workmen are putting in sixty hours a week as against the usual fifty-two hours.

Have you a little birdie in your car? If so, you are lucky in having only one, and not a nest of these songsters that insist on entertaining you with their merry chirps and peeps as your car rolls along the highway.

"Every season is open season on these pests, and game laws do not govern their destruction," declared Claude Roubush, local manager of the Western Auto Supply company. "Every car owner should take it upon himself to go hunting for these canaries that sing in his car. In preparing for the shoot, the hunter must, of course, provide himself with a gun and hunting knife. Not a shot-gun—but a weapon that shoots grease instead of bullets, and a knife with a long, thin blade. Another asset to the hunter is an instrument made for prying the leaves apart in search of the elusive birdie. His ammunition—a can of grease, oil and graphite compound.

Stalking Singers

"Donned in a conventional khaki hunting suit (a pair of coveralls) our hunter gaily sallies forth to stalk the wary singers that warble under his car and take the joy out of Sunday afternoon's joy ride. After a careful search he at last discovers the exact habitat of his game. Some—he finds nestling in the spring shackles, some, choose to roost in the wheel spokes, while others have long built their nests in the springs, and chirp noisily about in the leaves as the car is being driven. Quickly inserting the jack under the frame of the car to relieve the spring tension, our hunter is ready for the wholesale slaughter of the feathered chat-terboxes.

"A little contrivance called a spring leaf spreader is then brought into play. It is clamped on the spring and as it is tightened the spring leaves gradually spread apart, leaving the tenants of the spring leaves entirely to his mercy.

"Dry rust between the spring leaves provides an excellent spot for the noisy canaries to gather and carry on their vocal efforts. Our hunter then takes his knife, covers it with a liberal amount of graphite grease and works it between the spring leaves. Some hunters prefer covering the springs with a heavy film of oil as this method is equally as discouraging to those who would build their nests between the leaves. This operation is then repeated until all of the springs have received the same treatment. The car should then be thoroughly oiled and greased, all loose bolts should be tightened and an inspection of the wheels be made to determine whether or not the spokes have loosened during the hot, dry summer months. Loose spokes may be remedied by inserting a few drops of Spokette between the spokes.

"This operation is so simple that with modern tools and equipment it requires but a few minutes' time to dislodge the noisy warblers that have a tendency to become old established residents in spots about the car that the motorist has neglected to oil or give the proper amount of attention," concluded Mr. Roubush.

Keep Highways Clean, Is Plea to Public

club, that drastic steps will be taken next season by all counties to prevent the littering of the highways by thoughtless motorists in some communities, notably that of Monrovia near Los Angeles. Definite plans are being drawn up at this time with this end in view. Club officials ask that all auto owners reading this notice keep in mind the fact that the community is judged by eastern visitors, to a large extent, by the condition of its adjacent roads, and all those having the welfare of Southern California at heart refrain from making the roads a mess rather than a scenic asset.

MANGROVE WOOD

French engineers who experimented with it for years have decided that mangrove wood is made proof against rot by the tannin that it contains.

Chevrolet produced approximately 48,000 vehicles in August, compared to 41,000 in July. September schedule calls for 2200 a day.

MURPHY PRAISES 4-WHEEL BRAKES

Speed King Indorses Buick's Latest Achievement in Paris Wire

Since the arrival of the 1924 Buicks the four-wheel brake subject has come up for more discussion than anything else in the world of motoring. In adopting the four-wheel brakes as regular equipment on all fourteen models of the four and sixes, the Buick Motor Company has made what is considered to be the most important forward step in automotive circles since the adoption of the self-starter.

"In view of the talk on four-wheel brakes, the opinion of a man who has had lots of experience in driving racing cars which are equipped with four-wheel brakes, none other than Jimmie Murphy, the idol of San Francisco and one of the greatest champions that has ever piloted a racing machine, is worth something," says Ray L. Galvin, sales manager of Tanner & Hall, Buick agents, 237 South Brand boulevard.

"Murphy has been a Buick owner for years and he knows their mechanism. From Paris Jimmie sent a cablegram congratulating Buick on the acquisition of the four-wheel brakes, stating that in his opinion these brakes added the final touch to the automobile. Murphy, having driven racing cars with four-wheel brake equipment and having used Buicks for his regular road driving, is well qualified to pass judgment on both brakes and car.

"Murphy's views are in accord with everyone who has taken a ride in the 1924 models. Women, in particular, are agreeably surprised to find out how easy it now is to control a car with four-wheel brakes and what a wonderful factor of safety has been added."

New Jewett Six Is Ideal for Women

Six Brougham is sold here, $1,595, forms an inducement. Mr. Paden declares, that is one of the big factors in bringing in the orders for the new car that have already been received.

Many Advantages
The enormous production of the Paige-Detroit factories, together with the advantages in the purchase of all kinds of supplies that a sound financial system gives, he claims, permits the Paige-Detroit firm to put the new Brougham on the market at a price that would otherwise be impossible.

In adding the Jewett Six Brougham to its line of new models the Paige-Detroit Company has kept pace with the trend toward closed cars that has been so marked of late, and the officials and representatives of the company feel that in placing the Brougham in the field they are doing much to supply the demand for a car of the highest quality at a price that puts it within the reach of people of moderate means and one that offers even the wealthy buyers a car of which they can be proud in the best of company.

RAINBOW END IS GOAL OF ARTIST

Member of Gotham's Bohemian Colony Driving West In Ford Sedan

Artistic colonies throughout Southern California are eagerly awaiting the arrival of Tiny Tim, one of the leading characters of Greenwich Village, New York's famous Bohemian art center, where the real and the imitation artists flower in such generous profusion.

Tiny Tim, according to the word received by Jesse E. Smith, Ford dealer, 115-125 West Colorado, is on his way to find the end of the rainbow in Southern California, driving cross country in his Ford sedan, which, he claims, the ideal car for the long, hard grind across the United States. He is making the journey by easy stages, stopping to enjoy the beauties that present themselves along the route he is following.

His Ford sedan has been fitted up especially for the journey, with all sorts of comfort-giving facilities, and in his closed car he can laugh at the worst kind of weather that he may encounter. On his arrival here he will spread the message of artistic inspiration in Los Angeles and other cities of the Pacific coast, telling it in his own particularly pungent style that has made him a famous character in the ranks of eastern artists and literati.

NEW OAKLAND IS DRAWING BUYERS

Glendale Agent Lands One Of Ten New Models Sent to So. Cal. Dealers

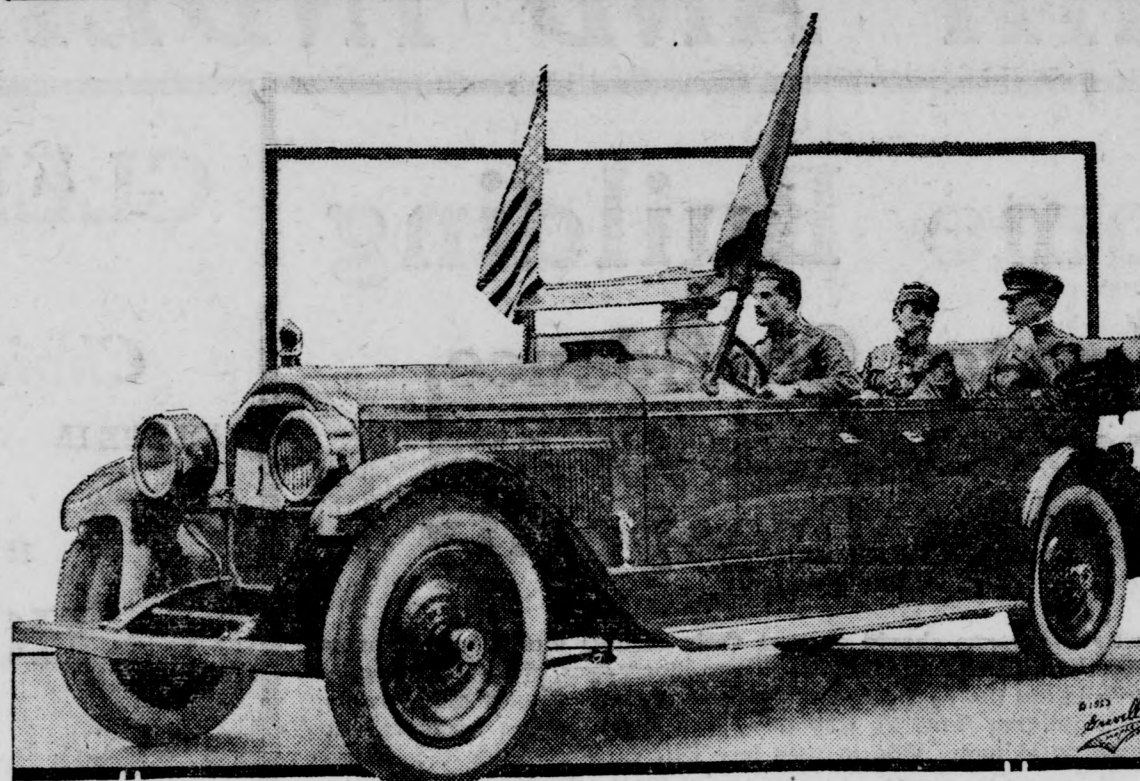

The delivery of one of the new Oakland models to the local agency at 219 West Harvard street has aroused the keenest interest among motorists of this territory, according to Thos. E. Ricketts, the distributor, who states that his demonstrator is one of ten cars that have been delivered to Southern California Oakland dealers.

Ever since the car appeared on the floor of the agency it has been the center of an admiring ring of prospective buyers, many of whom have already placed their orders for one or other of the new models. The special features that have been incorporated in the Oakland line are powerful influences in inducing the purchase of the new cars, the four wheel brakes, the handsome new bodies, the powerful new engine, and all the other points lifting the Oakland to its present high plane.

Though the distinctive factors of the Oakland have been retained, the car has been newly designed from axle to axle, resulting in a unified mechanism in which all the parts are perfectly balanced and correlated.

NAME BARTON AS SERVICE MANAGER

Expert Refuses Teaching Job to Head Hupmobile Repair Dept.

It is announced by Bartlett & French, Hupmobile dealers at 111 West Harvard street, Glendale, that they have been so fortunate as to secure the services of Don Barton as manager of their service and repair department.

Mr. Barton, who with his brother, King Barton, conducted the well-known Barton Brothers' garage at 212 West Broadway, has been in the automobile business in Glendale since 1914, and there is probably no one better or more favorably known in either the sales or repair departments of the business in this territory than he. For some time he and his brother were the Hupmobile dealers for this territory.

The high school system of Los Angeles has been negotiating with Don Barton to join its teaching staff, and he was about to become professor of motor mechanics at the Jefferson High school when his decision was made to remain instead in Glendale and take charge of the Bartlett & French shop.

All Hupmobile service will be given personal attention and labor by Mr. Barton, as will all automobile repair work which is placed in his hands.

SET NEW RECORD FOR STUDEBAKER

Eight Months Output Passes Entire 1922 Production Figures Reveal

With four months remaining in 1923, the Studebaker Corporation has already surpassed its entire production for 1922, according to a report just received from the Studebaker factory by D. H. Packer, local Studebaker dealer, 245 South Brand boulevard. Production for the first eight months of 1923 was 110,540 cars, as compared with 109,222 for the full calendar year of 1922.

August production was 15,700 cars, and broke all previous records. Production for the first eight months of 1923 was more than 32,000 in excess of the first eight months of last year.

Sales are expected to exceed 150,000 cars this year, as against 110,269 last year. And they are well ahead of production, which amounts to about 30,000 cars for the first two months of the present quarter, as compared with 30,199 for the full third quarter last year.

Buildings are now under construction at South Bend, Ind., which will increase Studebaker manufacturing facilities still further in order to meet more adequately the insistent demand for Studebaker cars. Work on these additions, requiring an investment of approximately $6,000,000, is progressing rapidly.

In face of a tendency of many manufacturers to taper off on their output at this period of the year when business generally shows a falling off, the Studebaker organization is increasing both its output and its manufacturing facilities.

SEES AUTOMOBILE AS OPPORTUNITY

Maxwell Dealer Explains the Way to Secure Most Service of Ownership

"Any automobile is nothing more or less than an opportunity," says Lyman P. Clark of the Glendale Motor Car Company, 124 West Colorado street, Maxwell and Chalmers dealers.

"Some men make the most of it—others fail to improve more than a fraction of the opportunity for comfort, convenience and pleasure that the car builder has put into their hands.

"Getting the most out of an automobile depends largely upon the local facilities that exist for meeting the daily needs of car ownership. Unless the local car dealer provides these the owner finds it difficult to obtain them. And his opportunity for satisfaction in car ownership is enhanced or diminished exactly as the dealer meets or ignores this responsibility."

The big item in operating cost is depreciation. If the cost of the car can be spread over five years of service, it returns more for the investment than if it must be traded in or sacrificed at the end of two years.

Some cars show little actual depreciation even after speedometer totals reveal that the owner is riding "on velvet," as it were. Such cars have been carefully handled. They have always had every needful thing the instant the need appeared.

You usually find that such cars came from a dealer who constantly maintained complete, up-to-date service facilities, and made them economically available to all owners.

The later model Maxwell cars today stand the highest of any car in their class, in re-sale value and back of this car is one of the largest service and distribution organizations in the world. This company recognizes and accepts their obligations to Maxwell and Chalmers owners. The purchaser of one of these cars is safely guarded by our investment in parts, service facilities, accessories and skilled men, said Lyman P. Clark.

SECURING SPEED AND WITH SAFETY

C. H. Hunter Points Way to Protect Lives; Urges Proper Campaign

"Speed with safety" is the slogan advanced by C. H. Hunter, president of the Glendale Automobile Dealers' Association, for a campaign to educate the public, the lawmakers and other officials and impress upon them the necessity for quickly moving traffic under perfect control.

Mr. Hunter says the time is coming when there will be roads for different types of motor traffic, i. e., one road for heavy traffic, another for commercial cars, and still another for touring cars and passenger traffic. He points to the scheme being used on Michigan boulevard in Chicago, where certain zones for certain speeds has made motoring a pleasure.

It's Mathematics
In Chicago, according to Mr. Hunter, the boulevard stop law permits fast moving vehicles to make all possible haste, and traffic officers insist that other cars keep up to the parade or take a side street. Briefly, it is a matter of mathematics that more congestion results from slow moving vehicles than from those which pass any given point in the shortest possible time.

Trucks and slow moving vehicles, including wagons, are causing more accidents on the highways than any other factor, Mr. Hunter believes. He also predicts that all principal intersections will be turned into viaducts to eliminate crossing smashups. Competent drivers for all motor cars is another "safety" measure advocated by the Glendale Oldsmobile dealer.

RADIATOR EFFICIENCY

Mud and dirt which become clogged in the cells of a radiator not only prevent the air from passing through, but also stop the heat from radiating, thus cutting down the capacity. A difficult case of over heating is sometimes found to be due to mud and dirt alone.

Never test a storage battery with an ammeter. Always use a voltmeter.

SELECT SITE FOR SERVICE STATION

Glendale Location Appeals to Newcomer as Place to Open Business

T. R. Wilson, who recently settled in Glendale, has bought out the Magnolia service station at the corner of Brand boulevard and Magnolia street and will improve it with the installation of a battery station, grease and wash racks, and a repair department. After a thorough investigation of Southern California, Mr. Wilson decided that Glendale offers the best opportunities, and selected his location in the belief that business will continue to go south on Brand boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have just completed an 8,000-mile trip in their Willys-Knight touring car, and it is all the people who want to come west and settle in California could do so, and Glendale could get her proportion of them, this city would have a population of 100,000 in 1930.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have been living in Arcata, Humboldt county, for the past four years, being engaged in the stationery business, while Mrs. Wilson was a member of the faculty of the Humboldt State Teachers' College. They are living at the Burton apartments on Central avenue while seeking for a location to make their home.

PHYSICIANS TURN TO CLOSED CARS

Professional Men See Wisdom of All Year Styles in Automobiles

The light shower of last week effected a material stimulus in the closed car business, according to C. L. Smith, Chevrolet agent, Colorado and Orange streets.

There can be no doubt, Mr. Smith says, but that the comfort of the closed car in cold, damp weather is every day making a stronger appeal to the motor car buying public.

Men, especially business men, professional and traveling, began to see the wisdom of closed cars and have increased the demand that was started by women. Large numbers of physicians are already using Chevrolet coupes, Mr. Smith says, for making their calls. There is an amazingly strong showing of business firms that have equipped their entire sales force with Chevrolet coupes. The popularity of the closed car has only just begun, he believes, and the next year will see it increase in popularity by leaps and bounds. The comfort afforded in all kinds of weather is, of course, the determining factor in the swelling demand for closed cars.

Auto Club Purchases Bonds With Surplus

State Insurance Commissioner, and are made with surplus funds of that institution according to California state law. In other words, the club feels that it can prove itself of greater public service by making its surplus reserve active through the purchase of highway and school bonds, than by allowing it to lie fallow.

In this way a powerful stimulus is injected into the purchase of worthy securities, it is pointed out, and a precedent established among motoring organizations for an active interest in the welfare of the communities represented within the territory of such an organization.

Home Building

Creates Confidence, Inspires Activity and Makes Prosperity

That is why every one should convert their savings and surplus money into savings accounts, building and loan shares, mortgages, etc. These home-building channels are the back-bone of any community. Money made available for home building finds its way back into every line of business. It gives employment to many who in turn buy with their earnings the things that you have for sale. Every progressive business and professional man and individual should give careful consideration to these thoughts, and you, as one of the units of our city, can do your share in stimulating prosperity by helping to finance home building.

One of a few men cannot successfully cope with this big problem; it takes complete co-operation to achieve worth-while results.

Co-operation means to join forces, every citizen working hand-in-hand, shoulder-to-shoulder, doing their share in helping to promote progress, stimulate confidence and create prosperity.

Co-operation Is the Real Secret of Community Development —and whenever you find the business men and individuals of a city in complete accord, with minds and efforts concentrated in one working unit for the up-building of their city, you will find what progressive cities are termed today—"WHITE SPOTS."

With every effort co-operating for community success, home building can be financed right here in our city, and, in promoting building activities, we will be making individual success; the money we invest in home building stays right here in our city and comes back to each one of us in exchange for our merchandise or increases in our holdings.

Build an ideal home of your own; create an atmosphere of attractiveness around your present home; after this lend your financial support in helping someone else acquire a home. Mortgage loans are the safest and surest of investments, and, in addition to the security, you will be helping in a movement that will mark you a real benefactor—a citizen with the highest moral code of ideals.

BUY GOOD PLUMBING FIXTURES!

YOU CAN BUY THEM—AND BUY

If Price Is All You Seek

—in buying plumbing fixtures, (and you accept "seconds" or damaged goods), don't complain if price proves to be all that you get!

The first principle of economy is buying the best you can afford—whether the purchase is clothing, furniture, bacon, or plumbing fixtures. But, of all purchases for the home, good plumbing is by far the most important and most economical, because it protects life and health; and because it costs less, by comparison with the service rendered, than anything else you buy.

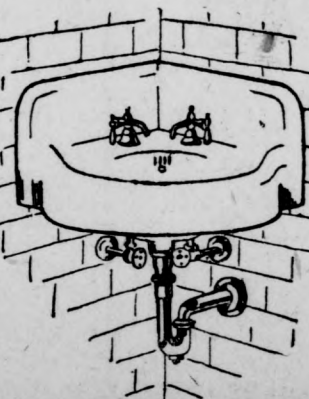

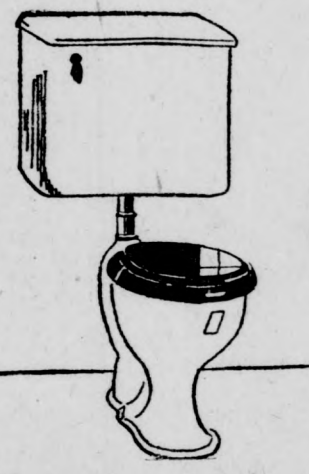

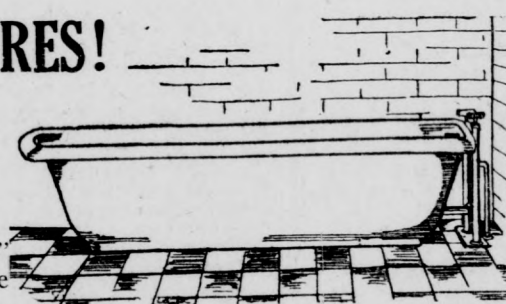

Few manufacturers are willing to gamble their good names and reputations by offering "seconds" for sale. Good plumbing fixtures bear their manufacturers' names plainly to be seen. Reliable wares carry a guarantee, further endorsed by the guarantee of the individual plumber and heating dealer, and this Association's guarantee, printed in this advertisement.

"Seconds" are so-called because they are inferior to first-class, standard products. "Used," or second hand goods are always under suspicion. In plumbing fixtures, buying either kind of the foregoing is the wildest kind of speculation. It means gambling with health and money, with the cards stacked against you.

The false economy of buying inferior plumbing fixtures is most likely to result in repair bills that might have been avoided. No one who buys inferior goods has a right to complain if they fail to give good service or permanent satisfaction. Plumbing prices are down—and the very best of plumbing fixtures are now within reach of the average family's pocketbook. The firm below deals only in first-class wares and is ready to serve you reliably and to your lasting advantage.

A LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Christian Science Applied to Mankind

By

A. HERVEY-BATHURST, C. S. B.

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Delivered in First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Glendale, Calif.

"To those leaning on the sustaining infinite, to-day is big with blessings." With these words Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, commences the Preface to her textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and the presence of this audience affords sufficient proof that these blessings have come, and still continue to come, into the experience of those who are students of this vast subject upon which it is my privilege to speak to you to-day.

THE DISCOVERER AND FOUNDER
It is not only interesting, but it is gratifying to notice how mankind is awakening to appreciate Mrs. Eddy and the movement she founded—a movement which, in less than fifty years, has encircled the globe.

In the year 1866 Mrs. Eddy made the discovery which she named "Christian Science." It came about as the result of her instantaneous recovery from the effects of a severe accident which the physicians had declared must terminate fatally. Mrs. Eddy had always been a deep and constant student of the Scriptures, and it was therefore natural that, in her extremity, she should turn to the Bible. It was then she proved, through her instantaneous recovery, to perfect health, that the method of healing taught and demonstrated by Christ Jesus was the natural fulfillment of divine law—a law just as operative and consequently just as available in this age as it was nineteen hundred years ago.

For three years after making her discovery Mrs. Eddy studied the Scriptures and the Scriptures only, and proved, by healing a large number of cases—many of them pronounced incurable by the physicians—how the law she discovered, the scientific rules whereby the sick had been healed, the sorrowing comforted, and the sinner reformed nineteen hundred years previously by Christ Jesus and his disciples. The result of her devoted and consecrated study of the Bible was her publication in 1875 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," the Christian Science textbook, upon which every Christian Scientist depends for his enlightenment, instruction, and guidance.

HEALING
On page 2 of "Fundamental Divine Science," by Mrs. Eddy, we read: "Healing physical sickness is the smallest part of Christian Science. It is only the bugle-call to thought and action, in the high-range of infinite goodness." Nevertheless, the great majority of people turn to Christian Science because they have failed to find relief from physical suffering, in spite of having tried many of the innumerable material methods and remedies practiced or advertised to-day. Were I to ask you what you think the world is most in need of at this moment, you would probably reply, "Good health." Think for an instant, and you will realize how great a portion of the conversation one hears is on the subject of health, or rather ill-health. Now, Christian Science shows us, not only how we have a right to, and can obtain good health, but how we can obtain it.

Broadly speaking, there is, and I think you will agree, no difference between what mankind needed in Jesus' time, and what mankind needs to-day. The remedy also is exactly the same now as it was then. Was there not sickness and suffering in Jesus' time? Was there not also envy, hatred, malice, dishonesty, deceit? Were not exactly the same conditions or claims of evil apparent among men in those days that we see to-day? And were not all these conditions healed by Christ Jesus and his disciples? Did not the Master reveal the only remedy, and is there not abundant proof that the remedy was successful? Why, then, was that remedy ever dropped, and others substituted which have failed of success? Is it not time that the practical nature of Christianity, as it is demonstrated by Christian Science, be universally recognized?

Do not think, however, that Christian Science is merely a system of physical healing. Indescribably wonderful as is the experience of physical healing which it brings, it is a small thing when compared to the spiritual regeneration which is inseparable from its physical healing.

The question which naturally arises at this point is, How is physical healing brought about by Christian Science treatment, and without drugs or surgery, or "medicines"? To find the answer to this question we must go back about two thousand years when the humble Nazarene declared that he had not come to destroy but to fulfill the law and the prophets. He showed that the fulfillment of God's law consisted in the healing of sickness and the destruction of sin, sorrow, fear, and all discord, through the correct concept of God and man.

Remember also that Jesus not only healed the sick and accomplished all his other works alone with God, but taught his disciples to do likewise, and it is sufficiently clear from the New Testament history how successful they were.

Let us consider this question for a moment. I believe you will agree that the law of God, which Jesus fulfilled, has not changed. If, therefore, it was not in accordance with the law of God nineteen hundred years ago that a man should be sick or bound by sin, best friend they have, the best guide, adviser, and comforter. The prophet Jeremiah wrote: "Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God afar off? Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the Lord. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the Lord."

The beloved disciple stated clearly that God is Love, and Jeremiah indicates with equal clearness the omnipresence, or all-presence, of God. Is it not logical, then, to state that a correct understanding of God includes the recognition and demonstration of the omnipresence of divine Love? And does it not inevitably follow that such an understanding must finally eliminate the belief in hate? Let us amplify this statement. Picture to yourself a locality where no one is hating, no one is feeling even uncharitably toward his neighbor. Would not the happiness of those individuals be assured in such circumstances? Would it not mean for them the elimination of misery? And if a sufficient number of individuals ceased entertaining any thought of hatred through their recognition of the omnipresence of divine Love, would it not mean the overcoming of strife, the end of war, or conflict between individuals, between communities, between nations?

Therefore through a Christianly scientific or demonstrable understanding of God, attained through Christian Science, we get rid of what might be described as the basic error of the carnal mind as St. Paul calls it, or mortal mind as Mrs. Eddy defines it.

Christian Science supplies a satisfying, scientific, and therefore practical answer to the question, What is God? On page 587 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy gives the following definition of God: "The great I AM; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-principled; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance; intelligence."

Perhaps the synonym for God most frequently used in Mrs. Eddy's writings is "divine Mind," defining the "all-knowing, all-seeing," ever present God, or good. Could the great First Cause or creator be so intelligent or less than intelligent? Surely not. His intelligence be better defined than by the term "Mind"? And could you conceive of God to be inactive or unconscious, or less than all-knowing or omniscient? What better term, then, could be used to define the omnipresent, omniscient God? If not all, omniscient God, the majority of us here, accept the usual definition of God as Love, Spirit, to be holy, all-powerful, and ever present. You believe that God is omnipotent; that is what Christian Science teaches. Christian Science also teaches that God is Love, Spirit. Therefore the teaching of Christian Science is not in conflict with what you believe about God: on the contrary, it is based upon it, and the works that I do shall be done also." Now, the day when people were willing to accept blindly whatever was told them, whether from the pulpit or anywhere else, is past. This is said to be essentially a practical age; therefore people are demanding proof rather than mere statement, practice rather than theory. This is why so many, in the hour of misery, disappointment, or sickness, turn to Christian Science. They know, perhaps, of friends who have been comforted, or healed of some serious physical trouble through Christian Science treatment, and so have been given a practical understanding of God as a very present help at all times and under all circumstances.

THE WORKS MUST BE DONE
The question here arises, Are not we, you and I, and not only all Christian Scientists but all Christians to heal the sick and do the other works that Jesus and his disciples did? The answer is most emphatically, Yes. Did not Jesus say, "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall be done also"? Now, the day when people were willing to accept blindly whatever was told them, whether from the pulpit or anywhere else, is past. This is said to be essentially a practical age; therefore people are demanding proof rather than mere statement, practice rather than theory. This is why so many, in the hour of misery, disappointment, or sickness, turn to Christian Science. They know, perhaps, of friends who have been comforted, or healed of some serious physical trouble through Christian Science treatment, and so have been given a practical understanding of God as a very present help at all times and under all circumstances.

Since this is true, the opposite must be false or untrue. What is the opposite? It is the belief that God causes sin, sickness, evil, and death; and that His universe, including man, is liable to express these discordant conditions. Now this belief (and please note that I use the word "belief") is untrue, and Christian Science affords the only way of salvation from this mistaken belief. Think, then, what such a message must mean to the invalid who has turned to Christian Science for healing. Many of you have doubtless experienced the indescribable joy that comes with that message, that it is not God's purpose you should suffer, and you need no longer be limited by an opposite and false belief. Hope begins at this point, spring forth with the rest of every Christian Science practitioner knows so well.

PRAYER
This brings us to the question of prayer. What is prayer? In my experience, as it is in the experience of innumerable others, one of the greatest blessings and revelations of Christian Science is the understanding of how to pray aright. You may say, What is there to pray about if God, Principle, or divine Mind, is infinite, all, and man is His expression? The answer is, Just so long as there is any belief in the presence, power, or effect of evil, will it be necessary to "pray without ceasing." Prayer is not only the desire for the knowledge of the truth, but it also exemplifies or demonstrates it. For example, suppose you understand something about Christian Science, and have demonstrated the truth of what you understand by healing yourself or others of some physical troubles. Some one then comes to you and says, I am suffering, and I want you to help me—to give me a Christian Science treatment. You have learned at least something of the truth regarding God and man, and by reason of your knowledge, you can prove or demonstrate it. Can you prove or demonstrate it by asking for treatment, the patient is ready for it. His honest desire is prayer, but it is probably rather along the lines of blind faith. The Christian Science treatment given by the Christian Science practitioner would be prayer based upon understanding—the understanding or knowledge of the truth about man as the reflection of God. That knowledge of the truth frees, because it destroys the erroneous or false belief about man, and the patient is healed.

TESTIMONY OF PHYSICAL SENSES UNRELIABLE
How, you may say, can you expect me to reject what the physical senses say? To such a query I would reply, Are you not already doing that every day? I need not but the familiar illustration of the sun from east to west, whereas you know it is the earth which is revolving. So, then, astronomy has revealed the unre-

Such prayer is answered. Why? Because the old, false beliefs, refuted by the knowledge and affirmation of the truth, die of their own inanition, and that which we declare to be real, is proved to be a present actuality, and God's will is done—"in earth, as it is in heaven."

In this way, through Christian Science, we learn and prove that man has dominion,—dominion over all the earth, over all that is unlike God.

AVAILABILITY OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Can you imagine a greater privilege, a greater blessing, than to be able to go to some sufferer who has appealed to you for Christian Science treatment—can there be any more glorious privilege than to be able to say to such an one: "Fear not, O Father, is indeed a God at hand and not afar off, a very present help in trouble? The same God who healed the sick, comforted the sorrowing and raised the dead through Christ Jesus nearly two thousand years ago, is doing the same to-day."

Now, Jesus Christ and his disciples will not mean but demonstrate the healing that is the inevitable outcome of a correct understanding of God? That same teaching is as available and as demonstrable to-day as it was then, and it is consequently just as available to your reach now as it was available for theirs. Let down through the roof on his couch, or the woman "whom Satan hath bound," or the man with the withered hand.

The Christian Science practitioner having a reason for his faith that is within him, can speak with authority, authority born of experience and the patient being receptive, or desirous of the truth, is healed; for, in those grand words of Whittier:—

The healing of the seamless dress
Is by our beds of pain;
We touch Him in life's throng and press,
And we are whole again.

MESMERISM, SPIRITUALISM, AND SO FORTH, FOREIGN TO CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The healing through Christian Science is brought about, then, through a correct, scientific or demonstrable understanding of God, and the patient being receptive, or desirous of the truth, is healed; for, in those grand words of Whittier:—

The healing of the seamless dress
Is by our beds of pain;
We touch Him in life's throng and press,
And we are whole again.

Also, it is well to remember that the first people to hear and accept the teaching of the Master were the humble fishermen, who could scarcely be classed as highly educated. Let me add also, that with all its simplicity, Christian Science is the greatest thing in the world, for it reveals the truth, the facts of being. There is not a moment when Christian Science cannot be practiced; there is not a place where the truth cannot be demonstrated; there is no problem however small—however great—that Christian Science will not solve. It is your privilege to commence, from this very moment, to practice what you now understand of Christian Science, by refusing to be party to or accept a lie, or whatever is not true with regard to God, man, and the universe. You will be as gratified by as you will be grateful for the wonderful blessings that you will reap as the result of your honest efforts. Through Christian Science, we begin to recognize reality; we change nothing, but we get rid of false concepts. We stop deceiving ourselves or allowing ourselves to be deceived. In other words, we begin to find heaven, not a distant, far-off place, but here at hand, or heaven on earth, for we begin to understand what Jesus meant when he said, "The kingdom of God is within you" (Luke 17:21).

IMPORTANCE OF LOVING OUR NEIGHBOR
With this new birth, this awakening to see the powerlessness of evil, think how we can begin intelligently to fulfill our duty towards our neighbor, especially in connection with the social and labor union, and other similar problems with which we are all familiar. Does not Christian Science afford the solution—the only solution—for are we not beginning to see, through Christian Science, how the universal brotherhood of man is no longer a dream, perhaps never realized, but a present possibility? I do not say, reality? Let us no longer limit the power of God, or good. Suppose we go from here and hear some one enlarging upon the illness of some one else, or complaining because of bad times which they declare are leading to financial disaster. Cannot we commence at once to apply the remedy by refusing to admit that God, the loving Father, ever gave authority to evil? Then as we persist in practicing this right thinking, this acknowledgment of God's omnipresence and omnipotence, we shall witness wonderful results, for Truth is power: error is impotent and cannot stand.

Take also the daily newspapers. You read them, or should do so, intelligently, and you already know how much better off the public would be if a great deal of what is printed had never been published. The press or journalism is, therefore, in need of transformation, and you can begin immediately to help along these lines. So take your daily newspaper and read it henceforth, first with a great desire to help mankind, and secondly, with a clear concept of the power of right thinking.

THE CHRIST REVEALED THROUGH CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
Is not the recognition and demonstration of the presence of God, which is made possible through Christian Science, a wonderful experience? Is it not indeed the "new birth"? Jesus said, "I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; even the Spirit of truth." He said also, "But when the Comforter is come, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me."

Now, Christian Science, or the knowledge of Christ, Truth, is surely testifying of Jesus the Christ. This awakening to the recognition of the facts of being is the coming of the Christ, which Mrs. Eddy defines as "the divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error" (Science and Health, p. 533). It is the recognition of what Jesus referred to when he said, "Before Abraham was, I am." That was his true spiritual selfhood. Then, since Jesus, who revealed the Christ, is the Way-shower, have not we also to demonstrate our spiritual selfhood, our true spiritual selfhood? And is not Christian Science showing us how to do it—how to "have the mind of Christ," as the Apostle enjoins us? And as we recognize the Christ, Truth, the Christ is again made manifest in the flesh through the healing of sin—the Comfoter taking away the sins of the world. And yet the carnal or mortal mind is still opposed to the Christ, as it was opposed to Jesus. To-day, however, the Christ may be rejected by some, but the final revelation of Truth has come, and the day is hastening on when, as was prophesied by Isaiah, "they shall all know me [God], from the least of them unto the greatest."

That knowledge constitutes the atonement, or at-one-ment, or unity of Father and son, God and man. It does away with the unfortunate teaching of man being a "miserable sinner." It reveals man's true nature, and shows him how to avail himself of his God-given birthright, his divine sonship. It shows man how to be, what he really is, what God made him, and shows the foolishness of his believing in what he is not.

St. John declares, "Now are we the sons of God." NOW, not some day. We have therefore, wake up and learn to demonstrate what we really are, the image and likeness of God, the expression or reflection of divine Mind, expressing the love, power, joy, freedom, and satisfaction which are inseparable from God.

I know no language that can adequately describe the peace and happiness that come with this awakening. It is what occurred to the prodigal son who "came to himself," gave up feeding on the empty husks of materiality, the belief of pleasure and equality, of pain in the senses or matter, and went to his Father, took up again, or recognized his true sonship, and was welcomed while he was a long way off.

That experience has been the experience of thousands of men and women who to-day owe all to Christian Science, for through its teachings they have found God, have proved the hollow-ness and emptiness of the false beliefs and delusions of the lies of the carnal or mortal mind, and found a welcome and found a present sense of heaven far beyond anything they had ever imagined possible.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THE WAY OF SALVATION
Christian Science, then, is a tree known by its fruits. Truth is invariable, unalterable,—can never change. Is Christian Science the way of salvation? It is. I can give that affirmative answer with conviction and joy—as the result of experience.

Did not Jesus say, "The kingdom of heaven is within you"? Every student of Christian Science is demonstrating this divine fact in the measure that he discerns it. Since Christian Science is the way of salvation, the final revelation of Truth, should we delay to walk in that way that has been so clearly pointed out by that great and good woman, Mary Baker Eddy, who was sufficiently awake and alert, spiritually, to discern the truth and the practical, scientific way of practicing it?

In our household affairs, in our business, and in whatever may be our profession, we are practical enough—most of us. Why, then, where our religion is concerned, should we be satisfied with what we do not understand or by what we do not afford definite and practical proof of its efficacy?

With the first insight into this great subject, we begin to recognize and reject the claims of evil more readily. We think less of evil, we begin to understand what God is, what man is in his relation to God, what we are. Then we begin to recognize who our neighbor is, and we awake to the fact that his true self is just as God-like as is our own real self. Then we find no difficulty in loving our neighbor as ourself. But how can we do so, so long as we do not know, have not yet found, ourselves?

Now every one of us in this hall knows more of God, His omnipotence and omnipresence, than we did an hour ago. Every one of us can commence, from this moment, to benefit by that knowledge and put it into practice. Don't think you have to wait. Then, with the success that will attend to your effort, you will be able to rest or sing with the fervor and gratitude born of actual experience, those beautiful words of Mrs. Eddy's Communion hymn:—

"Saw ye my Saviour? Heard ye the glad sound?
Felt ye the pow'r of the Word?
'Twas the Truth that made us free,
And was found by you and me
In the life and the love of our Lord."

Christian Science is primitive Christianity rediscovered and revealed to this age. It shows mankind the savior from all the ills the "flesh is heir to" by revealing the true or practical nature of God, and consequently of man in His image and likeness. Christian Science reveals the truth which the Founder of Christianity declared "shall make you free," and the knowledge of the truth about God and man affords the solution of all the problems with which mankind may be faced. The understanding of Christian Science reveals the presence and power of God, or good, not only where health is concerned but also with respect to the innumerable questions with which mankind is coping today, whether financial, labor, social, political, national, or international. Above all, Christian Science is preeminently simple and, as was indicated in an earlier part of this lecture, the demonstration of the teachings of Christian Science depends mainly upon the willingness of the student to recognize or understand the great First Cause, or God, or be Spirit, and His creation, including man, to be spiritual.

In conclusion, I will read these words from page 98 of the Christian Science textbook: "The progress of today beholds in the mental horizon the signs of the times, the reappearance of the Christianity which heals the sick and destroys error, and no other sign shall be given. Body cannot be saved except through Mind. Beyond the frail premises of human beliefs, above the looting grasp of creeds, the demonstration of Christian Mind-healing stands a revealed and practical Science. It is imperative throughout all ages as Christ's revelation of Truth, of Life, and of Love, which remains inviolate for every man to understand and to practice."

COURSE IN RADIO—CHAPTER 18—AUTOMATIC STARTER

The figure shows a modern automatic starter used by the Radio Corporation on their two-kilowatt panel sets. This shows a solenoid arranged so as to cause an arm to move upward over contacts and so short circuit the resistance coils which are in series with the armature. This motion is gradual. To prevent the solenoid from pulling the arm up too quickly a dash pot is used. This consists of a small cylinder with the piston attached to the starter arm. As the starter goes up, the piston moves too, and tends to create a vacuum in the cylinder, but there is a small adjustable leak in one end of the cylinder. This leak controls the speed at which the arm moves upward.

To the right of the automatic starter is the underload and overload circuit breaker. The three dark squares are contacts, the center one being connected to a movable arm. In the normal position this is down and closes the circuit through the solenoid of the automatic starter. The upper contact is connected to the retaining magnet, which automatically operates when an overload is placed on the motor. It comes about in this way: The overload coil to the right of it is in series with the armature of the motor and, naturally, all the current flowing through the armature also flows through this coil. When more than a stipulated amount (35 amperes) flows in this circuit, this coil, being an electromagnet, attracts the arm of the movable contact directly below it. This automatically makes contact with the retaining coil and current flows through it and makes it an electromagnet and holding the movable arm in place. When this arm is in the upper position it breaks the circuit to the solenoid of the starter and this starter arm drops down, cutting current off the motor. The retaining arm holds the movable contacts as long as power is on. When the main switch is disconnected this arm drops back to its normal position, and if the switch is put in again the motor will start up again. If the overload still remains on the motor the overload coil will trip and the motor will come to a stop. It is then necessary to hunt for trouble.

The resistance to the left of the starting resistance is known as the dynamic brake resistance. If you will trace it out you will see that it is connected directly across the armature of the motor through the metal arm of the starter. This resistance, being of low value, is used as a brake on the motor and brings it to an immediate stop. This is due to the fact that the motor, when the driving current is shut off, is then running as a generator (counter E. M. F.) and voltage going through the low resistance of the dynamic brake puts an extremely heavy load on the motor, bringing it to a quick stop. The numbers on the drawing correspond to the following: 1, main line switch; 2, motor; 3, field rheostat; 4, field winding; 5, solenoid; 6, starter arm; 7, starting resistance; 8, brake resistance; 9, pigtail connection between starter arm and line; 10, movable arm with up and down contacts; 11, holding magnet; 12, overload coil; 13, push button to start motor. The heavy lines are the circuit of the armature. The field rheostat, while varying the speed of the motor, also varies the frequency of the generator which it drives. The amount of current flowing in the motor armature depends upon the magnitude of the counter E.M.F. and as the speed of the motor is dependent upon the amount of the driving current that flows into the armature a weakening of the field by means of the rheostat will cause the motor to speed up and a stronger field will cause the motor to slow down. Briefly, an increase of resistance in the motor field will increase the speed, while a decrease of resistance will decrease the speed.

While a low aerial will get signals, a high one gets them better. During this time of the year you will get stations with your telephones that you cannot get with a loud speaker. It is better to have a series-parallel switch for your primary condenser.

Adventures of Billy Whiskers

By Frances Trego Montgomery

You remember how our friend Button, the black cat, was in the exposition show seeing the pictures of Captain Scott and his adventures while trying to find the south pole.

Button was feeling very sad over this brave man's death and all of a sudden some one picked him up by the nape of his neck and carried him to the entrance and threw him out, saying, "There, you sneaky cat, get out, and don't try to come in here again." We want none of you at our show.

"Well," exclaimed Button, when he found himself outside the show again and in the middle of the broad Zoro street, "I am glad he did not pitch me out before. I saw most of the picture anyway. All that is historical and true to life, and I like to learn about things that are going on in the big world. I can remember so much better by seeing the pictures. Nannie," he went on to himself, "where can you be? I wonder if the others have found you."

Then seeing a pen-like place with a man standing outside calling to people to enter and see the alligators and crocodiles that were all the way from only one week to nine hundred and three years old, Button thought perhaps they might have Nannie in one of their empty pens. Oh, "erratic thought. What if they had captured and killed her, and were feeding her to their horrible old crocodiles? Whenever the thought of this happening to Nannie came to Button, it made his blood run cold and his knees shake under him, for he had seen that she had been eaten by the

He walked along the edge of all the pens and looked in to see if he could spy Nannie or see a piece of hair or anything to show shake under him, for he had seen that she had been eaten by the

Boll Weevils Go By Plant That's Dedicated

Farmer and cotton picked from "God's Acre" near Arlington, Georgia. It was passed up by boll weevils.

A miracle was added to the annals of the south when seven farmer members of the Arlington, Ga., Baptist church discovered at cotton picking time that the acre apiece which they had dedicated to the Lord at the suggestion of their pastor was not only unscathed by the boll weevil but that it was much healthier in appearance and fiber than that of their other acreage, despite the fact that no preventative measures had been taken to combat the ravages of the boll weevil. Following the revelation of the miracle, the church has become the mecca of cotton farmers from all over the state, and thirty of them have already agreed to devote an acre apiece to the cause of God next year.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE MILK BOTTLE

"Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig, is coming to spend a few days with us, Uncle Wiggily," said Nurse Fuzzy Wuzzy in the hollow stump bungalow one day. "I hope you don't mind."

"I shall be delighted," remarked the bumpy uncle with a low and polite bow of his pink, twinkling nose. "Is she going to bring any of the little pigglies with her?"

"No," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Curly, Floppy and Squeaker, Squealer, the baby pig, are going to stay with their aunt, Mrs. Grunt-Unt. So Mrs. Twistytail is going to take a little vacation."

"Good!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I'll hop over and bring her here. Is Mr. Twistytail coming, also?"

"No, he has gone off on a fishing trip," said Nurse Jane. So the lady pig was the only one who came to spend a few days at the hollow stump bungalow. Uncle Wiggily hopped over to her pig pen house to bring her through the woods.

"Do you think we'll have any adventure before we get back to your bungalow?" grunted Mrs. Twistytail as she walked beside the rabbit gentleman.

"You never can tell," spoke Mr. Longears. And, surely enough, a little later it began to rain very hard—which is always an adventure. And Mrs. Twistytail had on her new fourteen-cent hat from the ten and eleven cent store.

"Oh, my hat will be spoiled!" she grunted.

"Come under this toadstool umbrella with me," said Uncle Wiggily. "The toadstool will keep us dry."

"Well, the toadstool kept Mrs. Twistytail dry, and also her new fourteen-cent hat from the ten and eleven cent store. But Uncle Wiggily got very wet. For Mrs. Twistytail was so big and fat, if you will excuse me for saying so, that she crowded poor Uncle Wiggily out from under the toadstool into the rain.

But Uncle Wiggily didn't mind getting wet.

"It's just another adventure," he said with a laugh.

Then the rain stopped and he and Mrs. Twistytail went on to the hollow stump bungalow.

"Welcome! Welcome!" cried Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"Thank you," grunted Mrs. Twistytail. "I know I shall like it here. It was good of you to ask me."

Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane made the lady pig feel at home, by giving her as much as she could eat. And toward evening Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy whispered to Uncle Wiggily.

"You must leave a note out in the milk bottle."

"What sort of a note?" asked the bumpy, for Mrs. Cow left milk at the hollow stump bungalow in clean bottles.

"Leave a note asking Mrs. Cow to put on the steps every morning while Mrs. Twistytail is here, a bottle of sour milk," went on Nurse Jane. "Pig ladies love sour milk, you know."

"All right," said Uncle Wiggily. So he wrote the note, asking the milk cow lady to leave the sour bottle every morning for the back porch, where the empty milk bottles were left, and he started to slip the note in the neck of a bottle. But he pushed the note too far and it slipped away down inside.

"Oh, dear!" murmured Uncle Wiggily.

"What's the matter now?" asked a grizzling voice. "Are you finding fault already when I haven't yet begun to nibble your ears?" And out from under the back stoop came the Skilley Scallery Alligator.

"Oh, are you going to nibble my ears?" asked the bumpy.

"Of course I am," gargled the Gator.

"Well, before you do that will you please reach down inside the milk bottle and pull out the note I pushed too far in by mistake?" asked the bumpy. "Put your tail in the milk bottle and pull out the note. You can't get your claw in—it's too big. But put in the little end of your tail."

"I'll do that," said the Gator. So he stuck his tail in the milk bottle, but no sooner was it in, than Uncle Wiggily pushed the milk bottle on as hard as he could, making it stick fast.

"Oh, ho!" cried the bumpy, dancing up and down. "You've had run in the bungalow and locked the door.

So the Alligator didn't get him after all. And Mrs. Twistytail liked her sour milk very much indeed. Now, if the rag doll doesn't try to swim around in the olive oil and pretend she's a sardine, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's roast potatoes. Copyright, 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

GUSTAVE STRESEMANN

That Dr. Gustave Stresemann, the new German chancellor, will not only continue the present passive resistance policy of Germany in the Ruhr, but may alter that policy a bit to make the resistance a bit active, is the consensus of opinion in European political circles.

Dr. Stresemann had been for the last year chairman of the reischtag foreign committee. He has served with that body at various times over a period of twenty years, so is at least thoroughly familiar with the diplomatic work and Germany's sentiments.

He is a native of Berlin and forty-five years of age. In addition to his diplomatic work he has found time to write several books on economics and politics. He is a member of several industrial organizations, including the German-American Economic Association, of which he is a member of the board of directors.

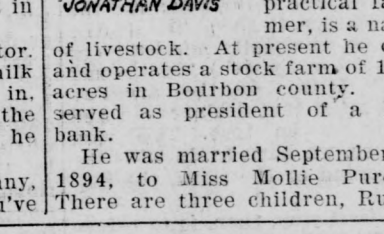

During the war the new chancellor was avowedly an annexationist, but voted for the peace resolution when that came up in 1917.

GOV. JONATHAN M. DAVIS Jonathan Davis, governor of Kansas, who has tossed his hat into the Democratic ring for the presidential nomination next summer, is a native of the state he now heads.

Davis was born in Bourbon county, Kansas, April 26, 1871. He was educated in the public schools of his county and later in the universities of Kansas and Nebraska.

He has been a practical farmer, is a native of livestock. At present he owns and operates a stock farm of 1,700 acres in Bourbon county. Also served as president of a local bank.

He was married September 26, 1894, to Miss Mollie Purdon. There are three children, Russell

SENATOR MATTHEW MANSFIELD NEELY

One of the new Democratic senators from whom much is expected by his party in the senate when it convenes next winter is Matthew Mansfield Neely of West Virginia. He defeated Senator Howard Sutherland for the seat.

Senator Neely enters the upper house after five years' service in the lower body. His first year was to fill out the unexpired term of John W. Davis, who was appointed solicitor general of the United States by President Wilson in 1913.

Neely was born at Grove, Bod-dridge county, West Virginia, November 9, 1874, but years later moved to Fairmont, where he now resides. His parents were Alfred Neely and Mary (Morris) Neely. October 21, 1903, he was married to Miss Alberta Claire Ramage of Fairmont, and they have two sons, Alfred B. Neely and John Champ Neely, and one daughter, Corinne Neely.

GLENDALE WINS PRACTICE GAME

Van Nuys Eleven Goes Down Before Local Varsity, Score 31 to 0

By NEAL E. SOOY
Written for The Evening News
By using a series of brilliant end runs, Glendale Union High school's varsity football team scored a decisive victory over the Van Nuys eleven, 31-0, in a practice game played yesterday on the home grounds.

Almost every candidate was given a chance to participate, and all showed up well. The Van Nuys pigskinners held the ball for four downs only once, losing it on fumbles the few other times they had it. Fumbles were frequent the first half, three being made in the first minute of play.

The two Elliott brothers, Howard and Darrel, showed up especially well in the backfield. Howard making two touchdowns and "Bud" making another. Cyril Walton also played a dandy game, while West, Ryan and Crow helped to defeat the invaders.

Hibbs and Fish played excellent games at tackle and were instrumental in holding the visitors. Denny, on end, proved adept at recovering fumbles. Horli also performed well on end. Davis played good ball for the losers.

A summary of the game by quarters follows:

Summary of Game

Van Nuys kicked off. Fish fumbled the ball and the visitors got it. On Van Nuys' first play they fumbled and Glendale recovered it. However, the Red and Black did not keep it, fumbling it again on the first down. This time Van Nuys kept it for four downs. On the last down they tried to punt. Hibbs broke through and got the ball. Walton, H. Elliott and Ryan then carried the ball down the field until "Breezy" put it over. He also kicked goal, thus adding another point. Van Nuys kicked off, but the quarter ended before any playing was started. Score, 7-0.

Van Nuys kicked the ball again in the second quarter, but lost it on a fumble. The locals then carried the ball up near the line, but were penalized twice and lost the ball. Van Nuys punted, and a moment later H. Elliott again took the ball over. He failed to kick it. Van Nuys kicked off, but the whistle ended the half a few moments later. Score, 13-0.

Van Nuys kicked off in the second half and held Glendale for yards. The Red and Black crew recovered it on a fumble the next play. Bud Elliott carried the ball thirty-five yards for a touchdown. Glendale failed to secure the extra point again. Glendale kicked off this time and Van Nuys immediately punted. On the first down, Crow received the ball and ran fifty-five yards before he was stopped. Twenty yards from the goal. He then carried it to within five yards, but the quarter ended before the line could be crossed. Score, 19-0.

It was an easy matter for Glendale to make a touchdown in the last part of the game. Dietrich rushing his way through the opposing line. He tried to add the extra point, but kicked too wide. Glendale kicked off and got the ball again when Van Nuys fumbled. The locals then fought their

Andy Smith Stages Secret Practice

Varsity football practice at the University of California in Berkeley is to be secret, and Andy Smith has his charges in good shape for the first game with the Alumni All-Stars today, September 22.

Andy announced that no first squad will be chosen until the first conference games, thereby giving everyone a chance to show what is in him.

Training table for the lettermen is held daily at the Delta Chi fraternity house.

Those at the table are: Captain Don Nichols, Perry, Neumeyer, Evans, Mumford, Spaulding, Burgess, Dunn, Witter, Horrell, Beam and Pearce.

Additions will be made as the men show their worth.

Basketball Players Hold First Practice

The newly organized basketball team of the Glendale Athletic club made quite a showing at their first practice game Thursday night. Clarence Jensen, captain of the squad, played in the A. A. U. league last year, and the club feels fortunate in getting him to direct it this season.

way up the field until Walton scored on a trick play. Elliott was unable to convert. Glendale kicked off and Van Nuys punted on the third down. Glendale started carrying the ball towards the enemy's goal, but the game ended with them thirty yards away.

Strenuous Schedule of Practice Games Arranged

Coach N. C. Hayhurst has arranged a strenuous schedule of practice games for the high school varsity eleven. Some of the strongest prep teams have tried to get a practice game with the locals.

Pasadena High wanted the Red and Black team to play them October 9, but, as they could not guarantee a satisfactory money arrangement, the offer was rejected. Instead of playing there the 9th, the Dynamiters will go to Hollywood and take on the Footballers' squad.

Next Friday, the 25th, the Fillmore team will come here for a game. Saturday following, September 29, the locals will go up to Oxnard and tackle the beach lads.

Coach Hayhurst hopes to also arrange some games before the Central league schedule starts on October 19.

Pinelli's triple to the far recesses of center field gave the Red eleven-inning beat over the Dodgers, 4 to 3.

Wonder Team System for Southern Branch

With a coaching and training staff which is superior in every way to any previous athletic regime, the Southern Branch of the University of California is working at top speed with more than 100 raw football huskies in an effort to send a pennant-winning team into the southern conference this season.

This year also brings the introduction of Andy Smith's "wonder team" system, which has proven such a success at Berkeley. No miracles are expected to be performed, yet great advancement will be made in the football teams which will be turned out in the following two years.

The freshman turnout to chase the pie skin is exceptionally large not only in numbers, but also in weight. Although most of the first year men weigh in around 200 pounds their slowness and lack of experience cause a great handicap. Scrimmage will start the latter part of the coming week.

FAST TENNIS PLAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Conducted in a day form by yesterday's rain, the East vs. West tennis series will be contested this afternoon, weather permitting, at the West Side Tennis club, Forest Hills.

Last spring the New York Yankees were angling for Eddie Collins, the White Sox second baseman.

The two Colonels were willing to pay a very big price for him, for all agreed that unless the Yankees' infield was strengthened at second the team which suffered such a humiliating defeat at the hands of the Giants in the World Series would never be able to win another American League pennant.

That Aaron Ward was the one weak link in the Yankee chain was a well-known fact.

But even the fine little pot of $100,000 reported to have been offered Comisky failed to pry him loose from the old Athletic star. So the league leaders had to start the season with their apparent weakness at second.

Ward started to perform around the keystone sack about as he left off in the World Series. But six weeks ago someone must have transplanted a pep gland into some part of his anatomy, for Ward suddenly began to be responsible for the winning of ball games.

He came across with hits when they were most needed. Hot grounders were nabbed and runners thrown out on plays that were always good in Ward's territory before. Double plays hinged on Ward's alertness were pulled off, much to the amazement of the fans and the talent.

Ward had at last found himself. He even began to use his head. He seemed to discover that he possesses a brain, and that it is a handy thing to have and to use sometimes even in a ball game.

Never a dangerous hitter nor a great batter, this fellow today is soaking the old pill as he never soaked it before.

There is a lot in the old saw that a baseball team is as strong as its keystone sack. And Ward's all-around value to his club has increased 100 per cent since the middle of May.

Ward hails from Booneville, Ark., and is 26 years old, bats and throws left handed, weighs 165 and is five feet, ten inches tall.

He was purchased from the Charleston club in 1917 and first played at third base. He entered the army in 1918, but was mustered out in time to rejoin the club the following season.

They have one more game to play with the Pirates, two with the Reds, four with the Dodgers and one with the Braves. A postponed game with the Cardinals will not be played.

The Yanks have already clinched the American league pennant.

The Tigers, who are finishing the schedule on a two or no count basis, divided another doubleheader with the Red Sox, losing the first, 4 to 3, and winning the second, 15 to 6.

Choice fabrics and new cuts mark both coats and dresses.

THE PENNANT RACE

As a result of beating the Pirates in a doubleheader, the Giants need to win only four of their remaining eight games to clinch the National league pennant, even if the Reds win all of the games remaining on their schedule. If the Reds lose one game, the Giants will need only three victories. Two defeats for the Reds would mean that the Giants could win the pennant with two more triumphs.

They have one more game to play with the Pirates, two with the Reds, four with the Dodgers and one with the Braves. A postponed game with the Cardinals will not be played.

The Yanks have already clinched the American league pennant.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Giants took two jumps nearer the pennant by winning a pair from the Pirates, 8 to 4, and 8 to 1, giving them a lead of 4½ games over the contending Reds.

The Tigers, who are finishing the schedule on a two or no count basis, divided another doubleheader with the Red Sox, losing the first, 4 to 3, and winning the second, 15 to 6.

SWEETZER WAGES FIGHT FOR TITLE

Golf Champion Battles With Philadelphia Contender in Final Round

By ROBERT E. HARLOW
For International News Service
FLOSSMOOR COUNTRY CLUB, CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—The eyes of golfdom were centered today upon Jesse Sweetzer of New York, and Max Marston of Philadelphia, playing in the final for the national amateur golf championship. Sweetzer is the present titleholder.

He won his way into the deciding match by defeating Robert A. Gardner, Chicagoan, a two-time winner of the title, by the liberal margin of 8 up and 7 to play. Marston qualified for today's play when he defeated Francis Outmet, of Boston, 3 up and 2 to play.

The gallery began to arrive early and before the players teed off there were 2000 persons present.

Sentiment leaned markedly toward Sweetzer, who was leading Marston by two holes when they and completed the first eighteen holes in their thirty-six-hole final for the amateur golf championship.

William Johnston Is Going to Take Rest

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—William M. Johnston, who has run one-two in world tennis ranking for some years, will play in the east vs. west series today but henceforth competitive tennis will probably see him no more. It is almost certain that Johnston will not come east for the national championship singles next year.

That statement is made on the authority of one close to Johnston. According to this man, Johnston's desire to step down is actuated by the cares of business and physical disability, mostly the latter.

Near Breakdown
Tennis has taken more out of Little Bill in a physical sense than it can give. It has run the Californian to a skinny shadow and it is a generally accepted fact that, unless he abstains from competitive play for the next few months, a physical breakdown is just around the corner.

To use our informant's rather homely remark, Johnston at present hasn't "enough meat on him to make soup."

Privately, Johnston is said to have informed this man that he intends to retire from the game at the conclusion of the present season and allow younger and stronger men to contest William T. Tilden's right to universal supremacy on the courts.

Wants a Rest
"There is nothing further in tennis for me," Johnston is alleged to have said, after he returned from abroad, where he won the hard court and turf court titles at St. Cloud and Wimbledon.

"I want to get out of the competitive game and stay out. I have been playing championship tennis for ten years and now I feel as though I am entitled to a rest. I have won all the honors I care for, what with two national titles and the championships at Wimbledon and St. Cloud and the game is beginning to take more out of me than I can put back. After the present season I will be ready to step aside and let some of the younger players have a try at the big game. I'm through."

GAS WAR IN IOWA
DES MOINES, Sept. 22.—The gasoline price war in Iowa is spreading, and, while both the Standard Oil company of Indiana and its competitors here declared today that there would be no further effort to cut prices, indications were that a price of 14½ cents a gallon would soon prevail through the state.

DEBATING TRYOUTS
Tryouts for the annual sophomore-freshman debate will be held this coming week at the Southern branch, University of California, according to announcements from both classes. Several Glendale students are expected to participate in the inter-class fiasco.

One who can sympathize with another man's lot will more readily appreciate his own good fortune.

FUNERAL TRIBUTE CHARLES M. HALE

Past Grand of Oshkosh, Wis., Lodge, Held in High Esteem

Odd Fellow funeral services for Charles M. Hale of 329 Howard street were held Friday, September 21, 1923 in the chapel of Kiefer & Eyerick. Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Presbyterian church, preached the funeral sermon, noting the following: Charles M. Hale was born in Charleston, Me., August 4, 1854, and died in Glendale, Calif., Sept. 19, 1923.

During his early manhood, in the year 1871, he moved to Oshkosh, Wis., where he lived until May, 1920, when he moved to Glendale.

Leaves Three Children

In 1881 he was married to Miss Eva Hammond, who survives him; three children are also left to mourn the loss of a father. Mrs. Wm. H. Bomb, of Beverly Hills; Earl C. Hale and Miss Bessie M. Hale of Glendale, Calif. Mr. Hale was a member of the Winnebago lodge, No. 120, I. O. O. F., of Oshkosh, Wis., for 45 years, where he held the rank of past grand.

He was faithful and self-sacrificing. The difficult and important position of degree stall captain, upon which so much of the character and prestige of every lodge depends, was filled by him with exceptional ability, continuously for twenty-five years.

During his administration, Winnebago lodge gained, and for many years held, the more than state-wide reputation of having the best team, and doing the best work, in the state of Wisconsin.

Since coming to California, he made many warm friends, a faithful attendant at lodge when his health permitted.

Following is a letter given him on retiring from his official duties by M. C. Sudson, recording secretary of his home lodge of Oshkosh, Wis.

Text of Letter

"I am directed by Winnebago lodge, No. 120, I. O. O. F., to express to you, as best I can, our appreciation of your faithful and self-sacrificing service as Degree Stall Captain for so many years. To show that your service was appreciated, and that this difficult and important position—upon which, as every Odd Fellow knows, so much of the character and prestige of every lodge depend—was filled by you with exceptional ability, it is only necessary to point to two facts.

"First, that with the exception of a short period you have held the position continuously since 1882, twenty-seven years.

"Second, that during your administration, and due to your ability and hard work, Winnebago lodge gained, and for many years held, the more than state-wide reputation of having the best team and doing the best work in the state of Wisconsin, a record which Winnebago lodge and yourself should feel justly proud.

"While we cannot but admit that your many years of efficient service entitle you to a rest, it is with deepest regret that we accept your recognition."

Prizes for Livestock at L. A. County Fair

Since the establishment of the Union Stock Yards in Los Angeles the various business enterprises of the city have had brought to their notice the difference in the grades of cattle, sheep and hogs offered to the packers for killing. Numerous demonstrations have been held to prove the beneficial effects of high quality livestock.

In order to interest the farmers of southern California in producing the kind that make the big gains in weight on a minimum of food the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has solicited a considerable sum of money to be applied as added premium at the Los Angeles County Fair to be held at Pomona, October 16 to 20.

Part of the money will be used as special prizes on fat steers, wethers and barrows. Some will be given for beef calves owned by calf club boys. The balance will be prorated on the prize money offered by the fair in the beef breeding classes.

Over Million and Half In Property Changes Ownership

Lights Lure People, Prosperity Too

CITY STREETS ABLAZE AID PROPERTY VALUES

Illumination Systems Prove

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff

GLENDALE'S popular slogan, "the fastest growing city in America," which has been worth millions of dollars in the far-and-wide advertising it has accomplished, may well be supplemented with another slogan, "the best lighted city in southern California," is the opinion of L. H. Wilson, president of the San Fernando Boulevard Improvement Association.

When at 8:15 o'clock Saturday night, April 28, 1923, Mayor Spencer Robinson threw the switch that sent the current leaping into 3,800 feet of artistic, ornamental street lights reaching along San Fernando road from Los Feliz road to Pacific avenue, marking the culmination of a year of concerted effort on the part of the association, a blaze of

Paint Brush Insurance Would Save Millions

IT is estimated that the American people pay the huge sum of $1,500,000,000 a year in replacing building materials ruined by rot and rust. This is a big bill, especially when it is appreciated that most of it could be saved with a paint brush. This sum is several times greater than our annual fire loss, about which so much is written and which, indeed, is serious enough to deserve all the attention given to it. This matter of depreciation is not given the dramatic attention which is accorded a fire loss because its slow accumulation leads people to overlook it.

The fable of the hare and the tortoise teaches that it is the slow and sure that will win the race against the sprightly and occasional. Decay moves on with the dread certainty of the glacier which plows its way through the mountains. Its daily progress is not noticed by the eye, but it is as certain as the rising and setting of the sun. Its consequences accumulate with the lapse of time. But, fortunately, it is an army of destruction which can be put to rout by a little forethought and attention. It is the exercise of this prudence which marks the intelligent man from the savage. The latter has not learned to govern his actions by such fine discriminations of prudence.

In these days of high cost of labor and materials it is increasingly important to make buildings last long and do good service to repay the larger amounts invested in them. This is one effective way to offset the rising cost. But the utilitarian angle is not the only one to be considered. There is an increase of self-respect which goes with living in a well-painted house which is akin to the virtue of being well dressed. The man who lets his house go to rack and ruin is in the same class with the one who is careless of his clothes. It not only contributes to his own satisfaction of mind to present a dignified and pleasing appearance, but it raises him in the estimation of the community. Money spent on this purpose is not an expense, but an investment. It is like putting it into the savings bank because it earns dividends by adding to the life of the main investment. Like good roads, it is worth more than it costs.

ZONING LAW IN COURTS ON TEST

Los Angeles Case to Have Bearing on Ordinance
in Force Here

That the right of a city to establish residence zones, as has been done in Glendale, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Long Beach and other leading cities of California, is very doubtful, is the opinion of Philip C. Sterry, county counsel of Los Angeles county. Some time ago Mr. Sterry gave an opinion in response to a request from the County Planning Commission, in which he stated that the right of the county to create exclusive residence zones is very doubtful. In response to a request, he has amplified this statement, applying it to cities as well as counties. He calls attention also to the fact that a case, testing the validity of the Los Angeles zoning ordinance, is now before the Supreme Court of California. Mr. Sterry's latest statement on the zoning question, which is of great interest in Pasadena, is in part as follows:

Cities Without Authority
"The question of whether a city has authority to prohibit the erection of an apartment house, hotel, store, garage, etc., in a so-called residence district is always a question to be determined from the facts in each particular case, but after more than a year's study of the law relating to zoning I am forced to the conclusion that a city

Rent and Avoid Paying Taxes? Not At All! It Can't Be Done, Folks!

PEOPLE who refuse to own property in the belief that they thus avoid taxes are like the ostrich hiding its head to escape the sandstorm, for they not only get the full blast but get it blind.

In other words, they have to pay taxes just the same but they pay them without the privilege of selecting the property on which they are taxed and without reaping the rewards of its rise in value.

Let those who doubt this consider the following evidence, then use their own grey matter in evolving a deduction. A recent arrival in southern California, seeking a house to rent or lease, was told by many property owners that rents had been advanced because assessments had been increased and taxes had risen.

One man who owned a house that had been listed at $5000 frankly admitted he was now asking $5200 for it, having tacked on the additional $200 to keep pace with the raise in his assessment. And the owner of a vacant lot nearby had tacked on $10 per front foot to the price he had previously been asking, by reason of the increase in taxes.

If further evidence were needed for the drawing of the deduction, scores, hundreds, thousands of instances could be found where rental properties have advanced $5 to $50 per month over what was asked last year or the year before, by reason of increase in assessments and elevation of taxes.

In short, the old adage to the effect that you can't escape death and taxes still holds good. Passing the buck applies equally in real estate as in politics. Extravagant government officials pile the load on the property owners—and the latter promptly dump it on the renters.

That old wheeze about it being cheaper to pay rent than taxes is no longer even funny. People don't like a joke that is on themselves. As long as there is government there will be taxes—and the property owners will never pay while the supply of renters holds out!

Of course, there's a moral. Yes, you've guessed it—OWN YOUR OWN HOME! It's cheaper than paying rent and it means more prosperity for you.

LARGE TOTAL FOR FIRST HALF OF SEPTEMBER, IS BASED ON DEED RECORDS

Average Transfers Daily About Twenty and Highest for Single Day Forty-five;
Many Glendaleans Make Investments

APPROXIMATELY $1,600,000 worth of Glendale property changed owners of record, within the first fifteen days of September, according to the summary of the Record and Guide, reporting on the abstracts of the returns of the abstracting companies at the recorder's office up to that date. The huge figures of property in transit were obtained direct from the deeds. The values of the properties was indicated approximately by the trust deeds and mortgages in connection with ninety per cent of the transfers. These mortgages and trust deeds average for the individual deeds around $2000. These mortgage figures give the approximate value of the property, being estimated on a fifty per cent valuation. Thus, if 400 pieces of property each carry a mortgage or trust deed to the extent of $2000, the property can be safely said to be worth $4,000. The total of $1,600,000 is thus estimated. And the valuation is conservative, being taken without regard to the payment down made by the purchasers.

Strong Financial Position Of Local Property Owners Is Shown by Figures

The average transfers for any day during the first part of September has been about twenty. The highest of any one day was forty-five.

The strong financial position of the property owners of Glendale was indicated during the opening days of September, by the scarcity of mortgages placed upon property already under ownership. The amount was practically negligible. In most instances the mortgage purpose was indicated by immediate investment in more Glendale property.

A marked feature of the buying during the period was the purely local element. This is at once a sign of strength and an element which will bear consideration. It indicates that Glendaleans have faith in the future of the city, but that the newcomers are not yet in the market for purchases.

In some cases, however, purchasers have bought for prospective some of the nation's finest and best known home-sites, according to Frank Meline, but in La Canada Hills they feel that they have a tract that is outstanding and unique in subdivision history.

"The Canada Hills stands apart and alone in point of the rugged natural appeal of its homesites, and the admirable setting in which it finds itself," he said yesterday, while discussing this tract.

"It has just been called to my attention that a special feature writer has made a special study of this district and has been so impressed as to designate it as a 'miniature Yosemite'."

Possess Distinction
"It is significant to note that we have been describing the La Canada Hills, our subdivision, as 'miniature mountains,' for it is so that they impress one."

"La Canada Hills possesses the peculiar distinction of lying at a considerable elevation above sea level, at an elevation above the immediately surrounding country, yet in more or less of a valley formed by great hills and mountains that tower above it in every direction. The result is to present a perfect view—an exquisite panorama of beauty in every direction."

"La Canada Hills offers an opportunity for the lover of scenery unadulterated—and the great rugged out-doors, to possess himself of a suburban estate at a very nominal price."

La Canada Hills may be reached from Los Angeles in about thirty-five minutes, according to the Frank Meline Company, who state that all improvements are paid for when the lot is purchased. Improvements include water, gas, electricity and hard surfaced streets admirably adapted to the tract.

The entrance to the tract is only two blocks from the Montrose-Glendale Electric Railway, which is now establishing direct service to Los Angeles. Paved boulevards the entire route make it easy to live in La Canada Hills and to go business in Los Angeles every day. Restrictions are of such a nature as to insure a high class community of small estates in every respect.

ZONE LAW NOW IN COURT TEST

Los Angeles Case Will Have Bearing on Laws in Other Cities

may not establish a residence district in the arbitrary manner which has been adopted by some California municipalities.

"The power to enact a zoning ordinance is directly referable to the police power of the state, which may be said to be that governmental power which is exercised for the protection of health, life, comfort and security of the people. But is merely a power and not a right. Nowhere under our system of government are the powers exercised by the government absolute. They are grants of authority from the people and are limited in their use to their true purposes."

Police Power Limited
"The police power is subject to the limitations imposed by the federal and state constitutions and it will not be suffered to invade or impair the fundamental liberties of the citizen, which are the chief concern of the constitution and for whose protection it was ordained by the people."

"The right of property in a thing consists not only in its ownership and possession, but in the unrestricted right of use, enjoyment and disposal, qualified only by the obligation that the use of the property shall not be the prejudice of others. But if, subject to that qualification, the citizen is not free to use his lands as he chooses, it is difficult to perceive wherein his right of property has an existence."

"It follows, therefore, that since the constitution gives to a citizen the right to use his property as he chooses so long as he harms nobody, the police power cannot be invoked for the abridgment of a particular use of private property, unless such use reasonably endangers the public health, safety, comfort or welfare."

Nuisances Defined
"Thus it has been held by the Supreme Court of this and many other states that ordinances which prohibit the establishment of a business in a certain district where the business is in its nature a nuisance or which may become a nuisance, such as laundries, brick yards, undertaking establishments, rug cleaning establishments and corals, are valid on the theory that such business in a congested community constitute a menace to the public health or increase the fire hazard."

"But ordinances which seek to prohibit the erection or maintenance of a drug store or grocery store or an apartment house or hotel in a residence district solely on aesthetic grounds, have, by the great weight of authority, been held invalid on the ground that the police power may not be invoked for aesthetic purposes, and the Supreme Court of this state is fully committed in this doctrine."

"In the case of Varney & Green vs. Williams, 155 Cal. 318, the Supreme Court had under consideration an ordinance of the city of East San Jose which prohibited the construction of sign boards.

STATE VALUATION

The total valuation of all property within the state of California has been placed at $5,135,984, of which $2,354,169,919 is real estate, $1,084,484,819 is improvements, $707,273,454 personal property and $298,318,229 railroads.

The railroads are carrying revenue freight at the rate of over 1,000,000 cars a week, a record-breaking movement that speaks well for the staying qualities of present prosperity.

In holding such ordinance unlawful the court said:

"That the promotion of aesthetic or artistic considerations is a proper object of governmental care will probably not be disputed. But, so far as we are advised, it has never before been held that these considerations alone will justify, as an exercise of the police power, a radical restriction of the right of an owner of property to use his property in an ordinary and beneficial way."

"Nor are we aware of any case which holds that a man may be deprived of his property because his tastes are not those of his neighbors. Aesthetic considerations are a matter of luxury and indulgence rather than a necessity alone which justifies the exercise of the police power to take private property without compensation."

"The principle announced by the Supreme Court must be so, otherwise, if a city by the use of the police power can prohibit the erection of a store building in a residence district just because such a building offends the eye, then it necessarily follows that the city council could prohibit the property owners in any one block from painting their houses with any but purple paint."

IDEAL LOCATION IN SUBDIVISION

Glengarry Park Brings Air of
Homeseekers

Glendale residents and tourists who would get a big breath of the great out-of-doors and find an ideal location for a home in a delightful rustic spot, and only five minutes from the heart of "the fastest growing city in America," should journey out to "Road's End," at Los Feliz road and Glendale avenue, to "Glengarry Park," the six-acre subdivision being sold by Miss Garnette Campbell.

Miss Campbell, who is a sister of Attorney Kemper B. Campbell, resides at 109 East Laurel street, and in addition to being manager of one of the most picturesque subdivisions in Glendale, enjoys the distinction of being the first woman realtor in Glendale in sole charge of a subdivision.

Receiving her friends and prospective patrons in her attractive rustic little office at the entrance to Glengarry Park at Los Feliz road and Glendale avenue, Miss Campbell talks most inspiringly of the subdivision under her supervision, and her enthusiasm is fully justified when one has indeed reached "Road's End" and stood under the shaggy pepper trees and looked over the rustic hillside home sites that will be conveniently reached by a contour road of decomposed granite, and electrically lighted.

Sales Are Rapid
There were only sixteen lots in Glengarry Park, all attractively priced and with satisfactory restrictions, and, according to Miss Campbell, the sales to date have been rapid.

Miss Campbell has not limited her realty activities to this subdivision, for she is going to do a general realty business in her little rustic office, which is most unique.

It is not more than a tiny box, but its artistic planning and California atmosphere make it a most restful place for a business or social chat.

Eucalyptus bark has been used in the exterior finish, while the roof is thatched with palm leaves. This gives a hint of the rustic effect carried out in the interior.

Through the rustic door with olive wood handle, bearing a burni monogram, and leather latch string, one enters the little office to find the interior as pleasing as the outside. Eucalyptus bark finishes the windows and borders the walls, slender eucalyptus branches the beams and the walls, and floor are covered with grass rugs.

Miss Campbell was formerly in her brother's law office in the city, but she is greatly pleased over her new venture and assures all Glendaleans that "the latch string is always out" at her office at "Road's End."

SALES AT TRACT OVER $125,000

Edgemont Park Lures Buyers as Building Offer Is Made by Owners

Sales at Edgemont Park, the Burbank home tract recently opened by Hamlin & Hepburn, subdividers, 203 West Broadway, have exceeded $125,000, reports E. D. Hamlin, while so great has been the rush to secure the building offer made through the Edgemont Lumber company, that it may take thirty days to fill orders.

"Scores of thrifty home lovers have grasped this rare opportunity to build a little place of their own," says Mr. Hamlin, "here in the choicest section of the San Fernando valley, only five minutes to either Burbank or Lankershim and but ten minutes to Hollywood, on main connecting highways and close to schools, markets, bus service and all facilities.

"Some of our streets in Edgemont Park have sidewalks and curbs. All have gas, water and electricity available for every lot. Terms are $50 down and $15 a month, while we will furnish all lumber necessary to build a complete home for $50 down and $25 a month. In other words, $100 down and $40 a month secures a home at once.

Profit Assured

"Lots are 45x135 and 50x150 feet, at prices of from $495 to $1300. At these prices, every lot in the tract offers a sure, swift profit. Soon the growth of Los Angeles will reach far beyond Edgemont Park, enfolding this section in its embrace of rising values. Some certain number of buyers are going to reap this profit. Everyone considering the purchase of property should ask the question, 'Am I going to be one of them?'"

"Edgemont Park is approached by driving out San Fernando road to Olive avenue, Burbank, then turning left on Olive and continuing to the tract office.

Mr. Hamlin reports every lot sold out in Unit 14 of Fairview. He states that all buyers in any unit of this tract may have the privilege of buying lumber through the Edgemont Lumber company, on the above terms.

Sale of one of the largest lots in Castle Heights to Irving M. Nelson of Oshkosh, Wis., is reported by Mr. Hamlin, who states that Mr. Nelson has returned east to dispose of his interests there and will build a $10,000 home at Castle Heights on his return.

FINAL SALE OF LOTS AT BEAUTIFUL BELLEHURST

Opportunity Is Being Given Glendale People To Make Purchases

Picture shows surveyors establishing final grades in the elevated second unit of Bellehurst Park. The final clean up sale of lots is announced to residents of Glendale only. Improvements are now nearly completed.

Announcement today, in Glendale papers only, of a final clean up sale on beautiful Bellehurst Park further evidences the consideration of the Walter H. Leimert company for residents of Glendale.

When Bellehurst Park was opened opportunity was given Glendale buyers to profit by first selection of lots in this magnificent new tract in the heart of Glendale. Before a single "gun was fired" last spring, in the Los Angeles papers, over $200,000 worth of property was snapped up by the people of this city, who realized the rare investment that it offered at that time.

The opening of an extensive campaign in Los Angeles two weeks later brought people in such a rush that within six weeks the entire tract, amounting to over a million dollars, was absolutely sold out.

In Great Demand
The Walter H. Leimert company was taken off their guard—such a sale was unprecedented, it set a new record even for Glendale, the fastest growing city in America. They could not meet the demand, for the second unit was not ready.

According to the Walter H. Leimert company, this second unit has been sold almost as fast as the engineers could work, with practically no advertising and very little effort. All summer people have visited Bellehurst Park and have bought—lot after lot has been sold. Now there remains less than 14 per cent of this choice property which is being offered to the people of Glendale in a final clean up sale.

ing offered to the people of Glendale in a final clean up sale.

Walter H. Leimert, president of the company, states that these lots are especially desirable—in the gently sloping elevated orchard section close to the foothills, a part of the famous Bellehurst Orchards. They are generously covered with fine old olive, orange, lemon, grape fruit and pomegranate trees. With all improvements now nearly completed and many fine homes in the course of construction, this is no longer merely a tract, but a part of the beautiful city of Glendale.

"These lots," says Mr. Leimert, "are an exceptionally fine investment, for in spite of the decided increase in value the prices have not been raised."

It is the opinion of many who are authorities on real estate values that prices in Bellehurst Park were remarkably low when they were originally set. That the majority of property owners in the tract are refusing to sell, feeling confident that a big increase in price in the near future is inevitable, is strong evidence of the value of the investment.

This is in line with the almost general feeling throughout southern California that we are due for the greatest activity in real estate this winter that has ever been experienced in the history of our wonderful southland. The Walter H. Leimert company feels confident that they are offering to the people of Glendale right at this time an opportunity in the Bellehurst Park clean up sale that they will be quick to seize.

Rossmoyne offers its ten miles of winding streets and unsurpassed vistas to the public, states Lon J. Haddock, president of the Haddock-Nibley Company, developers of this great project, whose headquarters are in the Egyptian Temple, 1300 North Verdugo road.

"Values here are bound to rise," says Mr. Haddock. "We have spent the money necessary to transform the virgin hills into avenue after avenue of winding streets and marvelously beautiful homesites. Advances in price are sure to follow—and soon. "Those who would take full advantage of all we have done in Rossmoyne should act at once. Drive out today."

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor:
"My most embarrassing moment was one evening in Los Angeles when a friend and I went to one of the cheaper movie theatres. There were three vacant seats next to the aisle. My friend went in first and I sat down beside her, occupying not only my seat, but half of the remaining one. At least five different people tried to sit in the other half. Between their hostile looks and the titters of the couple behind me, I was ready to leave. (But I didn't).
"P. S. S.—I'm awfully hungry.
"P. S. S.—I'm awfully, awfully hungry.—M. M."
Dear Mrs. M.:
I've just gotten around to getting your letter which was written weeks ago, in the column. By this time you should be occupying only your rightful space in the world. How about it, are you? Your experience is one of the disadvantages of being much overweight that I haven't talked on before. So I'll proceed to do so instantly. I'm sure you are out of the F. F. F. Class by now, so I won't hurt your feelings.
Don't you think the time will come when people who have to occupy a seat and a half or two seats will have to pay double rates? And don't you think it ought to come? I do! I think it would be a great inhibiting force against overweight. Of course until recently, the real cause of overweight was not understood by the layman. The real cause of overweight is overeating for the needs, in 999 cases out of 1000, we let that 1000th person have defective glands. And, because there has been such an ignorance of the caloric or energy values of foods, many people who apparently are not great eaters at all have accumulated vast amounts of fat.
People used to think that they had to be fat because they inherited the tendency—"all fat" the members of their family were fat." Now we know that this is absolutely untrue. As I have said before, we can inherit weak wills and strong appetites, but not fat.
I believe the time will also come when nations will realize the importance of normal weight in maintaining normal health and will realize that in order to

The multi-colored jacquette sweaters are becoming more popular every day. There are many brands of multi-colored yarns sold—that is, yarns shot with different colors, to give a "rain-bow," or Persian effect when knitted up. To make the following sweater you will need eight balls of this multi-colored yarn and three balls of any plain color you like (gold, rose or old blue is particularly effective with multi-colored yarn). The plain color is used as a border for bottom of sweater, bottom of Mandarin sleeves and around edge of collar. Both kinds of yarn must be two-ply. Shetland floss is about the right weight yarn to use, but it may be substituted by Scotch worsted, Scotch heather, Spanish worsted or Radiant Byzantine.

BULGARIANS USE WALNUTS EXTENSIVELY
The walnut in Bulgaria is almost indispensable to the housewife. The nut is eaten in the raw state and used for producing a cooking oil. The meats are salted, fried in a pan and then pressed with a rolling pin. Jam is made from the green walnuts, and large quantities are used in the production of a very potent brandy.

From Evening News Files

When it comes to the question of a postoffice Glendale is not on record in the postoffice guide book. Think of it, a city of 8,000 population!

A leading question for discussion on the streets of Glendale these days is the possible flow of water that may be gotten from Verdugo canyon.

Herbert Henning, the well-known Glendale young man, who with two Los Angeles companions started a short time ago to "hike" to New York, is making good progress so far.

Miss Edith King of Pomona is building an attractive modern bungalow in the new tract recently opened by the Tupper-Robinson Company just north of the Broadway school.

John McPeck, brother of Mrs. Daniel Campbell and former resident of Glendale, was married to Miss Ella Hess in San Francisco last Monday.

HASTY HINTS

Do you know many last minute things to do to improve your appearance? If, for instance, some afternoon when you had overworked and were dead tired and didn't a bit care what you looked like, someone called you up and wanted you to dress and disappear to a dance or a theatre—do you know what to do to look as fresh and rested and pretty as though you have loafed all the day long?

If you've only a few minutes, rub your face, neck and elbows vigorously with cold cream, wash off with cold water and soap, rinse with cold water in a basin, with a teaspoonful of tincture of benzoin in the water, and powder.

When you undo your hair, slip your fingers through it and rub the scalp vigorously all over. This makes you feel fresh and freshens the hair too. Rub cold cream around the fingernails after washing and push the skin back with an orange wood stick. Wash off the cream just before you go out and polish. This makes the nails look newly manicured.

If you've more time, rub the skin with cold cream, wipe off and rub on the white of an egg. Lie down ten to twenty minutes, meantime running a hot bath. Wash off the egg and wash the face and smear with cold cream. Let this stay on while you are in the bath, the hot steamy room will help the skin absorb it. Massage a little, wipe off what's left of the cream, rinse with cold water with a few drops of benzoin added—this treatment stimulates the blood, makes the skin look fine and firm and smooths wrinkles. Its effect lasts many hours.

Rub the scalp, wave the hair the least bit on a not-too-hot iron if it looks wilted; brush out and dress it becomingly. Powder yourself from head to foot, the powder is cooling and refreshing. Manicure your nails if you've time, and do not dress until you must, for being in negligee is in itself very restful.

E. M. B.:—Nothing but the permanent wave will keep straight hair in curl all the time, but you may be able to keep your hair in curl throughout the day by using a curling fluid on days when the weather is very damp. Such a fluid is made by dissolving gum tragacanth in very hot water. When it cools it will be like a heavy gum, which will require thinning again with sufficient water until the fluid is like a thin mullage.

Dampen the hair with this mixture and form into curls, allowing the hair to dry this way, after which comb and shake out the dried particles of the gum. If your hair yields to training, you may only need to use this fluid once or twice a week, unless the weather is very damp. On such days the work will have to be done over.

E. G.:—Full instructions for reducing, would consume too much of our column's space; but I will be glad to mail the information to you on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl sixteen years of age and will be a junior in high school next year. I have been keeping steady company with a young man one year my senior for about a year until about two months ago.

One night he came to see me and while he was here several more boys came and he got awfully angry at me, but it was not my fault, because I have two sisters and we are awfully popular. This young man seems to think that I should sit down and stay at home unless he takes me places. But all the time we are together we fuss and cannot get along because he is jealous and doesn't even want me to speak to the boys who come to see my sisters.

Since he has been angry he has been going around telling people how much he thinks of me and it seems as if all our friends are more interested in our going together than we are ourselves.

When he becomes twenty-one years of age he will inherit some money and everybody seems to think that I should hang onto that and I don't care a thing about it.

When he takes me to dances he expects me to turn down everybody and dance with him. He has asked me to marry him, but I refused, telling him that I could not live with a jealous person like him. If we married now we would have to keep it a secret until he inherits his money.

I really love another so much that I have felt like telling the first one to go home when the second one comes around. The second one has not so much money, but a better disposition and is a better boy all around than the first.

Please advise me what to do.

A FLAPPER

Your problem has worked out most fortunately. A young man who does not love you has become angry, leaving the coast clear for a young man you do love. The first young man really has caused to be angry, because you say yourself that you were keeping "steady company" with him. Your idea of "steady company" must have been quite vague, because all the time you wanted to be free to go with others as well as you even deeply loved someone else. Forget about the money and the young man who is to inherit it, and be happy that circumstance has turned in your favor.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married man thirty-seven years of age and have a wife twenty-seven years old. In her younger days she loved me as well as you even deeply loved someone else. Forget about the money and the young man who is to inherit it, and be happy that circumstance has turned in your favor.

GOOD RETAIL TRADE

Retail trade, as reflected in reports by a number of department stores throughout this district, showed a more favorable comparison with last year during June than in any recent month with the exception of March, which registered the peak of business for the spring of 1923.

Personally we have come to what we consider a very wise conclusion. We have decided to take this summer weather as it comes.

LOTS OF BUILDING

That business has found the silver lining in the clouds hovered over the industrial horizon after President Harding's death is attested by the fact that indications pointing to September as a big building month are coming in from every one of the southern counties.

Huge Sum Received in Third Installment on Incomes by Revenue Bureau

Counting of the receipts for taxes paid in the third quarter shows that the collections in the Southern California District, from September 1 to 15, were $7,084,009.08, compared with $6,305,434.25 for the same period of 1922, a gain of $778,564.83 for two weeks. These

NEEDS OF BUSINESS

"American business needs lower industrial costs and more normal relations between the industries, including agriculture for the firm establishment of confidence and a stable basis for industry," says the National Bank of Commerce, New York.

Move Spreading
Movements are now under way to install street lighting systems on several important Glendale thoroughfares, Mr. Wilson states. Los Feliz road is to be lit from the west city limits to Glendale avenue, Central avenue from the wash to San Fernando road, West Broadway from Central avenue to San Fernando road, and San Fernando road from Pacific avenue to the north city limits.

Petitions are being prepared

At next Thursday's meeting of the city council petitions will also be presented for the widening of San Fernando road ten feet on each side, from Los Angeles street to Los Feliz road. Mr. Wilson has already donated 1,400 feet of the south and west, for widening and is having Peter L. Ferry put in temporary paving now.

Announcing to Glendale only Clean up sale of Bellehurst Park

last chance to buy
Bellehurst
Park lots

It's here TODAY—right at your door—the greatest real estate opportunity you have ever known!

It will never come again—it can't last long—it calls for IMMEDIATE ACTION!

For Bellehurst Park, the most magnificent and successful residential tract ever opened in Glendale, is nearly gone.

Just a handful of these beautiful level tree-clad lots remain unsold today—just a small part of the great old orchard-clad estate, still in our hands as a result of our own mistake in underestimating the record-breaking demand that gobbled up the entire first unit within six weeks of our opening day last Spring—a demand that would have eagerly taken these lots, too, if we had foreseen the rush and if our engineers could possibly have prepared them for sale at that time.

Since then, lot after lot in the beautiful elevated second unit has been sold. All Summer long a steady stream of buyers, until TODAY, right at the start of the MOST ACTIVE REAL ESTATE MARKET ever known in Southern California, we find ourselves with LESS THAN 14% of this great tract still in our hands.

Imagine the opportunity to you.

Beautiful tree-clad level lots with magnificent views, right in the finest elevated section of a 200-acre residential park with all city improvements almost completed and with more than 650 enthusiastic neighbors, many of whom are already starting to build, with values advancing faster and faster and yet still for sale to you at opening prices, lower than all surrounding values six months ago, doubly low today in view of the tremendous development of this central residential section of Glendale since that time.

You know Glendale's wonderful growth; you know this great tract in the heart and center of the city; we know that you will consider these few remaining Bellehurst Park lots the most sensational bargain you have ever known even in this magic community.

Come out at once before they all go; put everything else aside until you have secured your choice at CLEAN-UP PRICES, in the best tract in the fastest growing city in America.
